IT'S A RECORD!

Victorians have upped the ante for the Good Friday Appeal this year, helping CFA raise a remarkable $1,606,287 for The Royal Children's Hospital (TRCH) Good Friday Appeal. The overall tally for the state was a record of more than $23 million.

Festival moves with the times

This year's Man From Snowy River Bush Festival may well be the most successful in terms of numbers judging by the early arrivals in town this week.

"We have managed to overcome several turbulent years to be genuinely excited with what we have in front of us in delivering the 2023 festival," said board chair, Cameron Jackson.

The highlight of the festival is the Stockman's Challenge which has undergone some changes this year.

"The Challenge is where it all began many years ago," Mr Jackson said, "and whilst we have progressed to be the largest and most successful event of its type in Australia, we saw the need for change.

"Recently the sport of Stockman's Challenge has been met with very limited entries and for a myriad of reasons cancellations of some events.

"Once we reviewed the climate we knew we had to be bold and make the change.

"We look forward to this year's new format of preliminary events."

Communities dig deep

CFA Chief Officer, Jason Heffernan, presented the cheque of the total amount CFA contributed to The Royal Children's Hospital alongside Hoppers Crossing members Paul DiMartino, Jodie Beckley, Subramanian Selvanathan and Sean McGregor.

CFA volunteers were seen in trucks and at traffic lights across the state including Corryong and surrounds, raising money in their local communities for appeal.

CFA has been a major fundraiser of the Good Friday Appeal for the past 72 years, having now raised more than $37 million for The RCH since 1951.

The overall total for the Good Friday Appeal in 2023 was $23,061,320 – a record-breaking final tally.

"I want to thank and congratulate all participating brigades across Victoria for the fantastic contribution they have all made to this year's Good Friday Appeal," CFA Chief Officer, Jason Heffernan, said.

"Our members give up their time to serve their communities in times of need and it's no surprise that their selflessness extends to worthy causes such supporting The Royal Children's Hospital.

"All members and their communities should be proud of what they've achieved for this year's Appeal, helping provide world-class care to sick kids."

The money raised for The Royal Children's Hospital Good Friday Appeal will be used to ensure kids are provided with the best possible treatment and care.

The Victorian regional and rural tally was $4,029,017 including:-

- Ballarat - $199,173
- Devenish Dookie & District - $120,248
- Wodonga - $119,337
- Geelong - $116,848
- Wangaratta - $104,929
- Albury - $102,346
- Echuca / Moama - $100,025
- Bendigo - $92,877
- Barwon Heads - $82,357

On comparative figures, Corryong punches well above its weight having raised $22,400 for this year's appeal so far with more to come.

Club Corner:- The Joker Poker jackpot at The Club Corryong this Friday is $3600. Last week's winner was Veronika Chamberlain ($10). The Club now opens at 12 noon.

Museum news:- Access to the buildings at the rear of the Man From Snowy River Museum will be unavailable for up to six weeks due to major works around the outside exhibits, starting Monday April 17th.

Festival follows best practice

"We have naming rights sponsors across all preliminary and divisional events including finals, along with the largest purse ever seen in Stockman's Challenge events!" Mr Jackson said.

"Our strong culture and financial position is a testament to our focus on best practices, vertical integration and ability to control our destiny through smart investment and governance.

"I would like to thank our Challenge Committee, full of new and returning contributors and supporters for their tireless work in seeing the need for change and seeking support from the board to make it happen.

"Our focus has always been the celebration of our Australian Bush Heritage that can well be forgotten in these times of political correctness and cancel culture."

Volunteer team shows the way

A Victorian volunteer collective at the forefront of invasive pest management has been announced as Community Award winners in the Australian Biosecurity Awards in Canberra.

Partnering with Agriculture Victoria, the four Community Pest Management Groups joined forces to deliver the Weeds and Rabbits project to improve the way pest animals and weeds are managed in Victoria.

“We salute the work of this team of volunteers who’ve shown exactly what can be done when community is at the centre of invasive pest management,” Agriculture Victoria Director Plants, Chemicals and Invasives, Sharyn Williams said.

“They have worked tirelessly to raise awareness and understanding of weeds and rabbit management in Victoria and changed attitudes and behaviours in ways that reduce biosecurity risks to Australia’s environment.”

The Victorian Blackberry Taskforce was recognised for its contribution to the joint program.

The Weeds and Rabbits Project ran from 2016-

2021 and engaged almost 6500 people through activities including workshops, field days and masterclasses.

“The team has delivered outstanding results to help landholders improve their understanding and raise the standard of weed and rabbit management,” Ms Williams said.

The $4.3 million Weeds and Rabbits project was funded by the Federal government, with project management and staff support provided by Agriculture Victoria.

The community leaders were from the Victorian Blackberry Taskforce, Victorian Gorse Taskforce, Victorian Rabbit Action Network and Victorian Serrated Tussock Working Party.

“We look forward to continuing to support the four Community Pest Management Groups via the Victorian government’s 2022-2023 budget commitment of $500,000 over two years to support the delivery of further programs,” Ms Williams said.

Further support will also be provided via the Backing Victoria’s world-class producers to grow initiative, with $5 million from 2023-24 to support community action to manage pests and weeds.

The Department of Agriculture, Fisheries and Forestry’s Australian Biosecurity Awards recognise individuals, groups and organisations that have shown a commitment to support and promote Australia’s biosecurity systems.

Grazing for weed control – what can be achieved?

Producer Demonstration Site (PDS) field day

WHAT Paddock walk and pasture session
WHEN 19 April 2023 | 9:30am to 1:00pm
WHERE Lamberts Rd, Towong, Victoria
 (look for the field day signs)

The ‘Weed Warriors’ producer demonstration site invites you to a pasture session with Lisa Warn.

Lisa will talk about how grazing management can assist with weed control in pastures and how it can be used to encourage the desired species.

The session will incorporate a pasture walk with some weed and pasture identification, as well as discussing pasture potential and the practicalities of grazing management.

The field day is ideally suited to producers looking for additional weed control strategies, and those that have pastures they are trying to improve without resowing.

The Weed Warriors Producer Demonstration is focused on dealing with weeds and strategies to help manage your pastures.

MLA’s PDS program supports producers to adapt, validate and demonstrate the business value of integrating new management practices/skills into their local farming systems.

What’s on the agenda?

- How to encourage desirable plant species
- How to outcompete weed species
- Weed and pasture identification
- Visual indicators of pasture potential.

We want to hear your creative ideas about how to make the most of Mt Elliot's natural features for our community and visitors to enjoy.

As part of the Victorian Government's Enabling Tourism Fund, we've secured $108,000 to develop a masterplan that explores the tourism possibilities of the Upper Murray's Mt Elliot.

The funding will be used to undertake engagement, prepare a feasibility study, and develop a masterplan with business cases. The masterplan and business cases will provide Council with documentation to support potential funding applications for the improvement/development of Mount Elliot.

Wild dog data kept securely

Pastoralists and land managers can have complete confidence the information they record about wild dog activity, control and livestock attacks entered on FeralScan® (including WildDogScan®) is kept confidential and managed securely.

Used to record sightings, tracks, impacts from pests, photographs and control activities, FeralScan® is a community pest animal recording and management tool that incorporates WildDogScan®.

SA Arid Lands Landscape Board Marla-Oodnadatta and Kingoonya Community Landscape Officer, Hamish Longbottom, said group members had undertaken training in the FeralScan® app over the past two years but concerns around data privacy had meant some people in the district were reluctant to use the resource.

"We strongly encourage people to use FeralScan as a trusted and secure national platform for pest animal recording," Mr Longbottom said.

"If people have pests on their properties, the best way to receive assistance is to start recording and reporting data about the pest in a formal way through FeralScan."

Mr Longbottom said although wild dog activity had been generally low across the Marla-Oodnadatta district in the far northwest corner of South Australia, it was vitally important for land managers not to become complacent and to monitor for wild dogs and record any evidence or sightings.

"We can use data that people record in FeralScan for planning with our funding and also to help organise control programs across multiple properties," he explained.

"We then have more information to use rather than a few random reports here and there."

FeralScan® national co-ordinator, Peter West of NSW Department of Primary Industries, delivered a webinar on using the app to pastoralists across the district in August.

"We showed people how they can easily enter information about pest animals and choose to either share that information with others, or keep information private," Mr West said.

"As a result of the webinar, many pastoralists are now using FeralScan regularly to record information about pests in their local area and they now understand their data is managed securely."

Mr West said it was important for landholders to understand the information they record into FeralScan® is kept confidential and secure.

All personal details are kept secure and sensitive information – such as pest control activities – is simply not visible on the FeralScan® map.

"FeralScan was developed by landholders for landholders and is easy to use and freely available," he added.

"It is hosted by the Centre for Invasive Species Solutions and all data is stored safely in a secure database within Australia.

"The data people record belongs to themselves. All photographs and data are protected so landholders and pest controllers can have complete confidence their data is managed responsibly.

"If anyone has concerns about the way information is managed, we are happy to provide further information or a demonstration to allay their concerns."

FeralScan® currently hosts more than 320,000 records and 41,000 photographs from people Australia-wide with in excess of 59,000 records added in the past 12 months.

There are more than 40,500 registered users of FeralScan® and it supports 631 private groups (such as landholder syndicates and pest control groups).

WildDogScan® alone contains 157,200 records from land managers and professional pest controllers working for biosecurity organisations and landholder groups.

Strategic water rights purchasing to bridge the gap to deliver Murray-Darling Basin Plan outcomes

The Australian Government, represented by the Department of Climate Change, Energy, the Environment and Water, is seeking to purchase permanent water rights of up to 44.3 gigalitres per year (GL/y) across six catchments in New South Wales and southern Queensland to help deliver the Sustainable Diversion Limits (SDLs) in the Murray-Darling Basin Plan.

Eligible catchments and recovery targets:

Queensland
Condamine-Balonne:	14 GL of surface water and 3.2 GL of groundwater
New South Wales
Barwon-Darling:	1.6 GL of surface water
Lachlan:	0.9 GL of surface water
Namoi:	9.5 GL of surface water
NSW Border Rivers:	5.1 GL of surface water
NSW Murray:	10 GL of surface water

Willing water rights owners in catchments listed below can submit a tender response to sell their permanent water rights as part of this tender process. Detail on the types of water rights being sought can be found in the Approach to Market on AusTender.

The decision to participate is completely voluntary.

Landcare grants have opened

The Victorian government is providing a $4.4 million funding boost to volunteers and young people across the state including in northern Victoria to help them protect and restore the natural environment in our area.

Member for Northern Victoria, Jaclyn Symes, said the 2023 Victorian Landcare Grants and the 2023 Victorian Junior Landcare and Biodiversity Grants are now open and aim to help volunteers and kids care for the state's precious environment and biodiversity.

Through the Victorian Landcare Grants, environmental volunteer groups can apply for up to $20,000 for on-ground works and community education projects that protect or improve the natural environment across northern Victoria. Support grants of up to $500 are also available to help with group administration and running costs.

"These grants will help volunteers and youth across Victoria restore and improve habitats for our native plants and animals," Ms Symes said.

"We know Victorians love being out in nature and we are investing to ensure our precious and unique environment can be enjoyed by future generations.

"This funding will assist our hard-working volunteers, community groups and youth to continue caring for our local natural environment.

More than 200 projects were funded last year.

"The grants are open to environmental volunteering groups, including Landcare groups and networks, Friends groups, Conservation Management Networks, Committees of Management and Aboriginal groups to support the important work they do in protecting and restoring our land and environment."

More than 200 projects were funded through last year's program including projects like the rehabilitation of native plants near Echuca, wicking beds for seed production in Euroa and rabbit control projects near Swan Hill and the Mallee region. Grants of up to $5000 will be available for projects that provide childcare centres, kindergartens, primary and secondary schools, Scouts, Girl Guides and youth groups in northern Victoria with an opportunity to participate in hands-on projects planting indigenous gardens, building habitat to attract native insects and birds, collecting data about nature and excursions to wildlife sanctuaries.

Upper Murray Sport

Tooma turns it on for riders

The Tooma Gymkhana at Easter has been bringing the community together since 1969 and this year was no exception, although with rain predicted on Friday and Saturday the organisers were concerned that the event may not be able to go ahead.

Tooma Valley president, Barry Cadle, remained positive that the Tooma Recreation Reserve would hold up fine with the rain and how lucky he was with Saturday's weather bringing another stunning Upper Murray day!

Seventy riders arrived in the morning ready for a fun day ahead. This year saw a swing in age groups with lots of youngsters, the Under 7s being the biggest age group.

The popular Dog Jump also made a return to Tooma, a definite crowd pleaser!

Brett McCallum from Tooma won the Small Dog category. Locals Brett McCallum, Angus Weston and Charlie Paton ended in a three-way tie for the Working Dog category and Brett McCallum took out the Hunting Dog (Big Dog) section.

Many ribbons were won as the competitors raced against each other and the clock but most importantly, there were smiles all around among competitors, helpers and volunteers.

The food was superb once again and a big thank you was given to all those who cooked, served, baked and supported the barbecue and cake store.

Thanks also went out to all the presenters, judges, timers, those who set up and packed away and those who helped in absolutely anyway.

"It takes a the whole community to bring this event to life!" Barry Cadle said.

The aim of the Tooma Gymkhana is to bring the community together including surrounding areas such as Tumbarumba, Rosewood, Jingellic, Khancoban and Corryong. A portion of monies raised are donated to communities in need.

Last year a donation was made to the Tumbarumba Lions Club for flood and fire relief and riding for the disabled.

"We are lucky to have amazing local sponsors and big thank you to the Tumbarumba Lions Club and Bendigo Bank," Barry added.

Brie Jones with her daughters Claire and Audrey.

Toby Jones with his daughter Audrey who were winners of the 5 years and older fancy dress.

Brett McCallum wins the Big Dog section.

The Kelly Gang - Joch O'Ryan, Kelly Pierce, Jody Pierce and Dan O'Ryan were runners up in the fancy dress.

A severe storm on Saturday did not augur well for the Corryong Grande ambrose event on the Sunday but in the end 20 teams enjoyed a chilly but fine day and a course that was in excellent condition.

Scoring in the wind had its challenges but the winning combination of Sean Bannon, Scott Prior and Zane Heinjus handled the conditions best to pocket the first prize of $500 on a countback from Chris McInnes, Bill Sheather and Ben Nelson.

The scratch section was taken out by Sam Patricks, Jim He and Peter O'Neill and the runners-up were John McMaugh, Trevor Britton and Mark Winnett.

Club captain, Pat Kamba, made the presentations and thanked those golfers who had travelled from afar for the early hit-off.

He also thanked Rob McLung and members who lent a hand for preparing the course in such great nick and particular mention was made of the contribution by Belinda Attree, Joy Bennetts and Cheryl Smedley in arranging the catering.

Novelty prizes:-
Longest Drive: Women - Kate Butler / Men - Pat Kamba.

NTP: Men - Dean Harding.

Straightest Drive: Men - Graham Pfeiffer.

Welaregang
There was no golf at played at Welaregang on Sunday.

The previous week, a very good field of 28 players enjoyed the perfect weather for the club's Opening & Trophy Day ambrose event.

With John Bennett sinking putts from everywhere; Paul Land, after a long absence from the game, hitting excellent approach shots; and Lance Noonan keeping the scores and driving the cart, they carded a sub par round of 69 for a nett 56.4, narrowly beating the team of Ken and Bloss Lebner and Shane Blake on 73, nett 57.2. In third place with a very fine 65 (59.7 nett) were Bill Bond, Shane Bannon and Sam Patricks, who also won nearest the pin.

The name Tony Jarvis dominated the trophy presentation for the 2022 season, winning the Phil Cribb Trophy, President's trophy, most wins and attendances, the eclectic and tying for the most 'gobbles', as well as taking out the Hill Zone C grade champion.

Evergreen Bill Sheather won the Captain's trophy while Bill Bond won the McGrath Cup Matchplay competition.

The loudest applause however, was kept for the winner of the club champion award, the little master, Ken Lebner, who, surprisingly, was speechless.

The club again thanks Dixie Coutts for arranging another great catering success, Gavin on the BBQ and Brenda for running the kitchen.

The course was up to its normal high standard thanks to Bill, John and Ken on the mowers and also Tony and Rob for tidying up around the fairways.

The club's next big event, the Weyhausen/Graziers Cup on April 23rd, will see teams of two compete for great prizes in this very popular ambrose event. Nominations can be forwarded to Lance Noonan on 0419 927 470.

Upcoming event:-

- The Tumbarumba Golf Club will hold its annual tournament on Sunday 16th April, 2023 with competitions for men, juniors and ladies (8am for 8.30am shotgun start). Entries by Sunday 9th April via email to haslettdaniel@gmail.com or phone 0419 486 538 or the club on 02 6948 2286 (after 4pm Wednesday to Sunday). Please nominate if in or sharing a cart or walking. The cost is $35 per player and $10 for juniors.

- Welaregang Country Golf Club Weyhausen/Graziers' Cup on Sunday 23rd April (2 Person Ambrose - SOP). 10.00 am sausage sizzle before an 11.00 am hit off. Cost is $30 per person / $10 under 18. Prizes on offer include $500 for a hole-in-one courtesy of Corcoran and Parker. Entries and golf link number to Lance Noonan on 0419 927 470 or email lancenoonan@gmail.com.

Bottoms come out tops

The grand finals of the High Country Darts competition were held at the Corryong Hotel Motel on Tuesday night and the home teams both triumphed with comfortable victories.

In Division 1, Bottom Pub justified favouritism after holding top spot on the ladder for the majority of the season, defeating Possum Pointers 4-0.

Bottoms Up made it a double by defeating Biggara 4-1 in the Division 2 decider.

Teams can nominate now for the coming season - contact Lance Noonan at lancenoonan@gmail.com or on 0419 927 470.
