Community urged to speak up on phone services

Independent Member for Indi, Helen Haines, is encouraging individuals and community groups to take part in a federal government review examining the existing and future telecommunication needs of regional communities.

The Regional Telecommunications Review is held every three years to investigate equitable access to telecommunications services across regional Australia.

"This review is an opportunity for people across Indi to tell the federal government directly about the challenges they face because of poor phone and internet services," Dr Haines said.

"Since becoming the Member for Indi, I have worked tirelessly with local communities, councils and other organisations to improve phone and internet connectivity in key affected areas."

Dr Haines helped to secure a public consultation for the review in the electorate of Indi at the Benalla Town Hall on May 3.

"Regional communities are held back by unreliable NBN coverage, mobile phone blackspots and slow internet speeds during peak holiday periods," Dr Haines said.

"We should not have to settle for second-rate telecommunications. Reliable internet and mobile phone coverage are not 'nice to haves' - our modern society relies on them to run businesses, work from home, study and access crucial healthcare services."

Anyone impacted by poor services is encouraged to attend the public consultation on Friday 3 May at the Benalla Town Hall from 10:00am to 11:30am.

Tickets can be reserved at <https://events.humanitix.com/vic-regional-telecommunications-independent-review-committee-benalla-public-hearing>.

School upgrades welcomed

Major works are planned for the Walwa primary school.

Six public schools across the Indi electorate including one in the Towong Shire, will benefit from $3.5 million awarded under the Commonwealth Schools Upgrade Fund.

The investment will fund vital infrastructure projects that promote safe, modern and inspiring learning environments for primary school students.

Federal Member for Indi, Helen Haines, informed local schools of the grant opportunity earlier this year and wrote letters of support for some of their submissions.

The second round of the Schools Upgrade Fund was open to all public schools for large-scale capital works projects and the Walwa Primary School was successful in securing $612,696 to replace hardcourt areas including supporting drainage renewal works and to upgrade the playground including a shade sail.

“Our young people need safe and modern learning environments to thrive, so it is fantastic to see this funding flow to schools which need it in Indi,” Dr Haines said.

“Upgrades to playgrounds, sports grounds outdoor spaces and fundamental amenities such as toilets support student wellbeing and engaged learning experiences.

“This much-needed investment will be enthusiastically welcomed by students, parents and teachers alike,” Dr Haines added.

College art inspires pride in heroes

Towong Shire libraries in Corryong and Tallangatta are showcasing a collection of local war heroes assembled by Year 6 students in the region, as part of an Anzac Day research project.

Using digitised service records from the National Archives of Australia, students created informative posters detailing the service history of individuals listed on their town’s war memorials, transforming them into vivid representations of local heroes who fought for our freedom.

Approximately 80

posters are on display at both the Elyne Mitchell Library in Corryong and the Tallangatta Integrated Community Centre (library) until May 4th.

Opening the Corryong exhibition on Tuesday, Towong mayor, Cr Andrew Whitehead, expressed his appreciation for the initiative.

“This collaborative effort between our libraries and local schools is a testament to our commitment to honour and remember the sacrifices made by our servicemen and women,” he said

engage with our history in such a meaningful way.

“These posters educate and inspire our community which, in turn, gives us a greater sense of pride and unity in our community.”

Cr Whitehead thanked the following schools for their contribution to the initiative - Bethanga Primary School, Khancoban Primary School, Kiewa Valley Primary School, Tangambalanga Mitta Mitta Primary School, St. Michael’s Primary School Tallangatta, Talgarno Primary School and Tallangatta Primary School.

Spotlight goes on council services

Federal Member for Indi, Helen Haines, will be part of a committee investigating the financial sustainability and service delivery obligations of local governments over the coming months.

In March the House of Representatives Standing Committee on Regional Development, Infrastructure and Transport launched an inquiry to examine and report on challenges impacting local governments and their delivery of services to the community.

“Since being elected as the Independent Member for Indi, I have worked closely with the nine regional councils that cover the electorate,” Dr Haines said.

“What I hear time and again from mayors, councillors and CEOs is that their local government budgets do not stretch far enough to cover the needs of their communities which rely on councils to deliver essential services such as maintaining local roads so that their safe to drive on, putting in the critical infrastructure needed to build more homes and looking after the spaces that bring our communities together.

“Beyond meeting core infrastructures needs of communities, some councils also provide important community services such as childcare, aged care, disability and local health services. We must ensure councils can continue to fund these important community amenities.

“While we cannot pre-empt what the inquiry will learn from public submissions and hearings, I look forward to working with my parliamentary colleagues to find solutions to current challenges and make recommendations for the federal government to act upon.”

The inquiry’s terms of reference will include:-

- An understanding of the financial sustainability and funding of local government;

- The changing infrastructure and service delivery obligations of local government;

- Attracting and retaining a skilled workforce in the local government sector;

- Structural barriers to security for local government workers and service delivery; and

- The role of the federal government in addressing issues raised during the inquiry.

“As a regional Independent MP, I will be particularly interested in the committee examining the challenges faced by local governments in meeting the needs of communities in regional, rural, and remote areas,” Dr Haines said.

“Thriving, prosperous regional communities require consistent and effective delivery and management of services and critical infrastructure.”

School stall pays off

The college stall stood out at the re-enactment.

The MFSR Bush Festival provides a funding opportunity for community groups and the Corryong College Parents Club was on a winner at the Riley’s Ride re-enactment this year.

“A huge thank you goes to the college families and friends who donated baked goods for the stall at the re-enactment,” said secretary, Emma Klippel.

“The stall looked incredible with new personalised and plain tablecloths which were generously donated by a community member who wished to remain anonymous. They made our stall look very professional and promoted our school well.

“The Corryong Neighbourhood Centre generously allowed us the use of their kitchen and storage facilities which was really appreciated.

“Thank you must also go to the Parents Club committee and students who co-ordinated the sale, packaged and labelled items and sold them on the day.

“We sold out before 11am and raised more than $2200, which goes to show how much of an impact baking a cake or two can do for our school. We are incredibly grateful to those who donated and helped in anyway.

“We must also express our gratitude to the Sacred Heart P&F, which offered us alternate years to host the stall and thanks go to the festival board which waived fees for our stall, thereby maximising our profits.

Audience was abuzz with questions

Self-described "native bee tragic", Karen Retra of Albury, recently gave a fascinating exposé on the lives and habits of the little native insect critters inhabiting the Australian bush and buzzing around in our gardens.

Straight off the back of the bush festival, the evening was well attended and during and afterwards Karen's talk, many questions were asked which highlighted the curiosity of the audience.

In response to one question, Karen replied that there are more than 2000 native bee species in Australia that have so far been scientifically described and perhaps another 500 to a 1000 species not yet formally described or even yet discovered - ranging from a tiny bee about 2mm long to the large yellow and black carpenter bee which grows to about 24mm in length.

Karen also said during the evening that, unlike the European Honey Bee which is now under threat, only a very few Australian species are colonial and produce honey. Most are loners.

The pollinator seminar was hosted by the Corryong Wetlands group.

"Based on the success of this evening we hope to hold more interesting events like this in the future on various subjects," said co-ordinator, John Murphy.

"Thanks go to Karen and thank you Emergency Recovery Victoria which largely sponsored the Recovery Committee. Café Brew and many positive comments have been received."

Prime bulls are ready to deliver

Commercial producers chasing growth, eye muscle area and positive fats pushed prices to $20,000 at the recent Reiland Angus autumn bull sale.

Interfaced with AuctionsPlus, the sale was hosted by the Lucas family at Killimicat Station, Tumut and drew 33 registered buyers.

A total of 66 bulls were sold under the hammer from the 73 offered to a top of $20,000 and average of $8333. Five bulls were sold immediately after the sale.

Repeat clients, Ian and Marcus Clarke of Ournie, secured the top price bull, Lot 36 Reiland Tudor T956, an August 2022 drop son of Stoney Point Kingpin K211, for $20,000.

Weighing 832kg, Tudor had a moderate birthweight estimated breeding value (EBV) of +5.0, a 600-day weight of +149kg, eye muscle area (EMA) of +9.6sqcm, intramuscular fat (IMF) of +2.0 per cent, positive rib and rump fat, and positive calving ease.

liked the stylish young sire's positive fats and exceptionally high growth for the family's 400 cow autumn and spring calving herd.

"We also look at the milk on the maternal side for retaining heifers," he added.

"He will be joined to the first calvers this autumn."

The Clarke family sold

Reiland blood autumn drop steers weighing 396kg and aged 10 to 11 months in January on AuctionsPlus for $1460.

"We are looking for bulls with growth, intramuscular fat, positive rib and rump fat and calving ease to go over heifers," Marcus said.

The second top price of $18,000 was reached three times with repeat clients Dick and Jenny Turnbull, Holbrook, purchasing Lot 5, Reiland Thorn T1261; Graham and Judy Houston, Houston Pastoral, Burrowye taking home Lot 22 Reiland Thousand T343; and Proudfoot Agriculture, Narrawa buying Lot 13 Reiland Target T914.

Mr and Mrs Turnbull purchased a total of five bulls. The couple were selecting bulls with positive or neutral rib and rump fat EBVs to boost female fertility in dry seasons.

Reiland Angus co-principal, Mark Lucas, was pleased with the sale outcome and onboarding of six new clients from Victoria, local districts and Queensland.

"We had some trepidation in the lead up with the season and there is no doubt a cloud over the beef industry still but we met the market forecast wise and buyers got a good article," Mr Lucas said.

"We appreciate the loyal support and bidding. We have our sights firmly set on breeding bulls that will deliver profit."

Guest auctioneer Brian Leslie complimented Reiland on presenting a consistent line of quality bulls.

"Past buyers return here so it is telling us the article does the job," he said.

"An average of $8333 and a top of $20,000 is good for everybody considering the year.

"Producers will keep buying those good genetics which means when the market turns, they will have the right article to sell.

"There was a lot of competition online, particularly from Victoria."

Duty agents were Elders Wagga Wagga and Tumut/Adelong.

Farmers have a say on mental health

For most, farming in Australia is a great way of life but at times it can also be physically and psychologically tough.

So, when things get overly stressful, who do farmers turn to for support?

Finding out what farmers want in terms of mental health support is the focus of a new University of South Australia study, with researchers looking to establish who farmers turn to once they've exhausted their personal coping systems through family and friends.

The rate of suicide among farmers is twice that of other employed people. However, farmers are half as likely to have visited a GP or mental health professional in the last 12 months, compared to non-farm rural workers. UniSA researcher, Dr Donna Hughes-Barton, says it's vital to hear from farmers to understand how best to support their mental health.

"Farmers face multiple barriers to accessing mainstream physical and mental health care," Dr Hughes-Barton says.

"There are fewer face-to-face services in rural areas, which means it can be difficult for farmers to access mental health support. We also know from our previous research that distrust can be a problem when farmers feel that health professionals do not always understand life on the land.

"Farmers are very adept problem-solvers and while this a great quality to have in a practical sense, they tend to 'tough it out' when it comes to their mental health, rather than reaching out for support from others.

"Increasingly, health bodies are trying to raise farmers' awareness about mental health issues and the importance of asking for help when needed. However, there is a gap in the research about what farmers respond to and want to see from mental health and wellbeing support services.

"This study aims to fill this gap. We want to know what farmers do when they're experiencing stress, and they've maxed out their coping strategies and support from friends and family.

"We also want to know what support mechanisms farmers would be prepared to engage with once they have reached this point."

Led by Associate Professor Kate Gunn and the ifarmwell team at UniSA, the study is supported by National Farmers Federation, the National Centre for Farmer Health, and Lifeline Australia.

"Our team is committed to promoting good health and wellbeing for farmers and their communities and we are passionate about developing and delivering services based on what farmers tell us they want and need," Professor Gunn said.

"Farmers' voices are at the centre of our work and that's why we're inviting farmers to have their say in how supports and services for them are developed and delivered in the future."

The anonymous survey takes 20 minutes to complete and all farmers, farm workers and members of farming families are invited to have their say. To complete the survey now, visit: <https://bit.ly/3PLC5nI>.

Corryong CBD Update

Work resumed on the Corryong CBD Streetscape project on Monday, 22 April.

Currently, our focus is on decommissioning two underground fuel tanks, and we anticipate completing this by the week's end. Additionally, we're conducting soil testing around the remaining tanks to gauge contamination levels, which will inform any necessary soil removal.

Once the decommissioning is complete, we'll shift our attention to completing Stage 2 of the project, which is on track to begin next week.

Preparations are also underway to commence work on the eastbound side of Hanson Street, from the Memorial Hall to the Man from Snowy River Arcade. Plans for this section, including increased parking bay depth, are currently under review by VicRoads for approval. As we gear up for demolition work on this side of the street in the coming weeks, we'll promptly notify affected businesses of the start date.

Burnoffs can cause health concerns

With fire restrictions having eased in most parts of the state including the Towong Shire and calm autumn conditions prevailing, hundreds of private, agricultural and planned burns are expected to take place in the coming weeks.

While current conditions are ideal for burning, weather patterns may cause smoke to linger over parts of the state overnight and through to early morning.

Forest Fire Management Victoria (FFMVic) Chief Fire Officer, Chris Hardman, said it was crucial fire agencies took advantage of favourable conditions when they presented.

“Planned burning on public land is one of the tools FFMVic uses to keep Victoria safer from bushfires,” Mr Hardman said.

“While we burn to the conditions not the calendar, autumn generally gives our crews more opportunities to conduct planned burns as the weather is more stable and fire behaviour is manageable and generally predictable.

“With the current favourable weather and forest conditions, we are dedicating all available resources to deliver planned burning.

“Reducing fine fuels such as grass, leaves, bark, shrubs and fallen branches means fires are less intense and slower to spread, making it more likely that firefighters can keep bushfires small and contained before they pose a risk to communities.

“Smoke can be a result of private resident or agricultural burns, chimney smoke or planned burns. We work closely with and use information from the Environment Protection Authority (EPA) and Bureau of Meteorology to keep the smoke impact from planned burns as low as practically possible and inform the community while delivering the program.

“Victorians can also

Autumn conditions are ideal for planned burns and private burnoffs.

sign up for planned burn notifications to prepare for any impact on their health or activities.”

CFA Chief Officer, Jason Heffernan, is also urging Victorians to research and understand permit requirements before conducting private burn-offs.

Victoria’s Chief Environmental Scientist, Professor Mark Patrick Taylor, said the EPA understands smoke from any source including planned burns and private burnoffs can cause health concerns.

“Be prepared by watching for FFMVic planned burn notifications and by checking the air quality for your area through the EPA’s AirWatch air monitoring system,” Professor Taylor said.

“Your nose is also an excellent smoke detector. If you can smell smoke, take the necessary precautions to protect your health.”

For the latest information about when and where planned burns are happening near you, visit <https://plannedburns.ffm.vic.gov.au/>

Detailed information about current air quality throughout Victoria can be found on the EPA’s website.

If you see or smell smoke outside, you should reduce your exposure to smoke by staying indoors and closing your windows and doors – but only if it’s safe to do so.

Tips for looking after your health when there is smoke can be found on EPA’s ‘Smoke and your health’ webpage - www.epa.vic.gov.au/for-community/ environmental-information/air-quality/smoke/smoke-your-health.

Keep your burn off safe and legal:-

- Check fire restrictions in your area and always register your burn at www.firepermits.vic.gov.au or by calling 1800 668 511

- Check and monitor weather conditions – particularly wind

- To avoid unnecessary calls to emergency services, notify your neighbours beforehand

- Leave a three-metre fire break, free from flammable materials around the burn

- Have sufficient equipment and water to stop the fire spreading

- Never leave a burn-off unattended – stay for its entire duration

- If your burn-off gets out of control, call ‘000’ immediately.

Animal Registration

Reminder

We wanted to remind you that dog and cat registrations were due on 10 April 2024.

Every dog or cat over the age of three months must be registered with Council and microchipped with registrations renewed annually.

If you’ve previously registered your pet with us, you would have received your renewal notice in the mail.

It’s important to pay this as soon as possible.

Make an eco-friendly choice by transitioning from paper-based to electronic animal registration notices.

To receive your notice via email, please reach out to Council at 1300 365 222 or email info@towong.vic.gov.au. Be sure to include your name, address, and pet’s name in your message.

C Grade:- My new catch phase 'Rollin' rollin' keep those subs a rollin'. High five, Cudgewa came home victorious with a confident win 41 to Bullioh 19.

As the new coach to C Grade, it was great for the team to get a confident win over reigning premiers Bullioh with no holding back. With several players not available the ever reliable and talented U15s Ruby-Jean Klippel, Quinn Galbraith and Ava Dakin stepped up and contributed greatly to a convincing win.

The first quarter was very close and with only one goal in front and need for some adjustment, implement the rolling subs. Brie Jones and Gemma McNamara formidable combination in goals, who would have known it was their first game together.

Welcome newcomer Lexi Galbraith in centre who teamed up with sister Quinn in mid-court to provide drive, direction, and controlled passes into goals. On a very hot day these girls ran the court and was great to use rolling subs to hydrate and coach.

Our defence worked hard all game and again with rolling subs able to change combination. Chloe Kennedy had a ripper of a day, playing in GK, GD, WD and GS as a coach enjoying the versatility of Chloe and her can-do attitude. Chloe Land was tasked with four intercepts a quarter and pressure on the goals - can't wait to practice this at training and bring to game day. Rolling subs saw young combination of Ava and Ruby-Jean in defence in the second quarter, again their ability to read play, intercept and send the ball forward to attack is what wins game.

Shannen Collins was straight on to court after coaching D Grade and was hungry and so strong in WD, the pressure Shann applied and the drive down court is a credit to all her hard work and showing in her game day.

By half time we had nine goal lead and by third quarter 17 goal lead and full time convincing and confident win by 22 goals. Credit to the girls with rolling subs activation and implementation.

Training is a must for C Grade if you want to play on game day and I look forward to all players turning up. I'm very thankful and grateful for U15s stepping up in D, C & B grades.

Awards: Brie Jones, Gemma McNamara and Quinn Galbraith.

D Grade:- A new team came together this year with a few returning players. It was great to see all the girls coming together and playing as one - including a couple of mother daughter-duos out there.

Unfortunately we didn't come away with the win but there's good points to work on.

Here's to a fun season. Awards: Genna Towers, Jess Glabatz and Collette Carkeek.

U15s:- Keep those subs a rollin'! The team proved adaptable and disciplined and executed rolling subs beautifully.

Cudgewa came home victorious with a very convincing win 44 to Bullioh 3.

We welcome new team members Tilly Paton and Billie Galbraith, Tash Tregilgas has done a wonderful job coaching and preparing both these little pocket rockets to step up into a higher grade. Tilly and Billie blended wonderfully into their new team and provide many options in attack, feeding the goalies and strong in mid court defence.

Our defence across court was brilliant and I lost count of awarded turn overs for opposition held ball. All girls were tight on their players and we capitalised on the hard work with goals score.

Marie McLean and Lola Paton worked beautifully in the goals with accurate shooting, working the ball around the ring with mid court feeders Quinn, Charlotte, Billy and Tilly. Our mid-court players Charlotte Klippel, Belle McVean and Taylor Turnbull provided a stable flow down the court, with Belle getting more hands-on ball and resulting in turn overs.

Quinn Galbraith, best in finals last year, came in stronger than ever with her ability to read play and direct strong play down the court to feed straight into the goals. Quinn's running, netball ability and continuous smile is a delight to watch.

My away girls Ruby-Jean Klippel and Ava

Dakin, who can't always make training, bring a fabulous defence, their skill in reading play and intercepting in coming balls, strong rebounds and providing options down court is a credit to both these girls and strongly contributes to our winning team.

On such a hot day the rolling subs were great to utilise, using communication and the high five on interchange, give the players a rest and as coach an opportunity to direct, coach and implement game play for the team. The girls got more court time and knew exactly what their role was.

Awards: Marlie McLean, Quinn Galbraith and Belle McVean.

Coach Jen
U11s:- What a game to start the season off!

There was strength and determination in every position on the court.

With our strong team ethic following through from last year, these girls sure showed Bullioh they are not here to mess about.

Lani's goals were on point with beautiful movement in the ring. Pippa and her strong court presence was hard to hold back.

Defence from Indi and Olivia was outstanding and with the added WD of Ruby and Trixie working together well in the defence end, with our new team members working hard and played a great first game!

Brianna and Amelia made some great space in the centre court and used some great patience and footwork to get some great intercepts.

Overall, an amazing game to watch with the girls taking on any advice and gave everything, the girls should be very happy with their first game back.

Awards: Canteen (sponsor, Melderg P/I) - Indi Stephens, Top of Town Takeaway - Olivia Nagy, Players' Player - Grill'd voucher was a draw - Brianna Klippel/Pippa Faithfull - with the girls both wanting to give it to the other!

Notification of 1080 Baiting Programs on National Parks Estate

As a neighbour to Bogandyera Nature Reserve, Clarkes Hill Nature Reserve, Jingellic Nature Reserve and/or Kosciuszko National Park, the National Parks and Wildlife Service (NPWS) would like to inform you that it will be continuing to undertake ongoing 1080 baiting programs in all of these reserves from 1st May, 2024 until 1st November, 2024. These ongoing programs will include the use of both baits and canid pest ejectors that contain 1080 poison.

Additionally, Aerial Baiting will occur in the above reserves and National Parks between the 8th May, 2024 until the 17th May, 2024.

Please be aware that 1080 baits and ejectors are particularly lethal to domestic dogs and cats and as such you must ensure that pets and working dogs do not enter these reserves. In the event of accidental poisoning seek immediate veterinary assistance.

These activities are aimed at controlling wild dogs and foxes in accordance with the Upper Murray Wild Dog Management Plan and are being undertaken in conjunction with other stakeholders of the Upper Murray Wild Dog Working Group.

break with a very simple message and game plan to just chip it around and play our game style and could see the fruits of our labour paying off in the remaining two quarters.

We were very happy to get the four points after a hard game. We had a lot of new faces but the standouts were Grady and Cam. Cam fought all day in the middle and gave us a lot drive and was a class above. Grady after half time had a massive job to stop Ash Murray from troubling the scorer.

U14s:- What better way to start the season than with a 100 point win! Right from the first bounce, the boys were switched on and didn't let up. Heath Mulligan was doubtful to play earlier in the week but overcame another foot injury to produce one of his best games ever. He was unstoppable up forward, kicking 11 goals.

Jackson McInnes played very well in his debut match. He competed well in the ruck and was rarely beaten. Moose Bloom and Mac Brindley were on fire in the centre. They both worked hard and racked up plenty of kicks and also chipped in with a couple of goals.

Beau Mulligan and Jack Turnbull were also dangerous up forward, kicking three and two, respectively.

Well done boys!

U9s:- The team got off to a great start with everyone enjoying their game of football. It was a great win with a team full of contributors. Best players Jack Porter, Ollie Paton and Miller Galbraith. A special shout out to Tyler Clevon who rucked well in his first time in that position.

U12s:- A great win to the team first up. They played hard with our teamwork and willingness to play for our mates clearly being the difference. Best on ground was clearly Harry McVean in the ruck. Other best were McKinley Klippel, Mitch McGrath, Connor Ray and Pip Faithful.

Netball

A Grade:- It was a scorching first game back! The girls kept their cool and worked hard to come away with the first win of the season.

Mal and Kerstin proved to be a tough combo in defence, with lots of communication and movement. Our quiet achiever, Charlotte, was the star of the show in WD all day, reading the play well to get hands on every ball, shutting down her WA. Taylor, Jo and Bella were strong, helping to achieve our defensive turnovers. Both Sophie and Rachel worked really well together in the goals, particularly with Bullioh's strong defense. Lots of patience from goalers and feeders, feeding the ball beautifully into the ring.

Awards:- Charlotte Star, Sophie Greenhill, Rachel Ciccone.

B Grade:- Despite the heat, the girls were on fire all day, getting their first win for the season! With Courtney and Sarah keeping the pressure on Bullioh's shooters in defence, they showed they will be a force to be reckoned with this season!

Our midcourt girls just ran all day, utilising our rolling subs to keep the ball flowing nicely down the court when attacking. Bella and Jasmine proved to be equally as defensive to achieve some game winning turn overs. Pip and Ellie work so beautifully in the goals and of course are an unstoppable combo, with some great movement and perfect feeding into them. Amazing first game by all!

Awards: Courtney Simpson, Ellie Ross and Amber Connley.

Bullioh bridges the gap

Cudgewa's perceived cloak of invincibility took a hit in the opening match of the season when Bullioh pushed the defending premiers to the final siren, falling short by five points of causing an upset.

The Dogs held a slim lead at half time and still led the Blues by a solitary point at the last break.

In a dour final term, Cudgewa edged ahead with three goals to the Dogs' two to get over the line.

In the absence of former coach Drew Cameron, the Blues unveiled a handy replacement in former Wodonga and Kiewa-Sandy Creek spearhead, Guy Telford, who announced himself with a five-goal haul.

Bullioh also had a sharpshooter in Tom McGibbony, who stepped up with six majors and almost stole the show from the Blues.

Co-coach Dayne

Carey, said his side was underdone for the season-opener but was able to find another gear when required.

"It was a hard fought win and to be honest, we probably stole the match off them in the end."

Star recruit, Cameron McNeill, was a standout for the Blues and former North Albury defender, Grady Nigsch, kept Bullioh aces, Ash Murray, goalless.

Former Wodonga player, Joel Heiner, kept the Dogs in the fray for four quarters along with stalwart Jacob Curran but the Blues iced the game with some smart possessions at the death.

Corryong showed it has a way to go to break its duck after going winless last year when Tumbarumba stormed home with a ten goal to two second half for a 46-point victory.

Dan Hitchens led the way for the Roos with seven goals, aided by silver service further afield from Rhys Preston, Fynn Debono and Joe Holt.

The Roos' poor accuracy in front of the sticks kept the Demons in the contest but they struggled to make an impression following the main break.

Evergreen Evan Nicholas was prominent with three goals and Nathan Lattanzio, Jacob Robson and Holbrook recruit Oscar Southwell were solid contributors.
