Drink drivers dodge gaol

Following a recent crack down by local police several men faced the Corryong Magistrates Court last Friday on drink drive charges.

Four separate matters were heard where offenders with prior convictions for driving while suspended narrowly avoided incarceration and were given Community Correction Orders.

Another man also came close to imprisonment for drink driving and was fined $800 with his licence cancelled for 12 months following a car accident.

Another man was convicted for driving while disqualified and drink driving and was fined $750 and had his disqualification extend by a further month.

In related news, Victoria Police is warning motorists to take extra care on the roads this Easter with three fatal collisions already recorded in the first three days of April.

Operation Nexus, launching at midnight today, will see police ramp up enforcement across the state in an effort to reduce road trauma.

It follows a shocking start to the year which saw 37 lives lost on Victorian roads in January, one of the worst months in recent years.

So far this year there have been 87 lives lost statewide, up 33 per cent on last year.

Assistant Commissioner Road Policing, Glenn Weir, said "Easter is a high-risk period on our roads - it's a major holiday weekend that attracts significant travel across the state.

"There have been 11 lives lost on Victorian roads over the last five Easter periods - that's 11 lives tragically cut short, instead of enjoying Easter with their families, friends and loved ones."

Festival sends a coo-ee!

This year's Man From Snowy River Bush Festival is set to be bigger than ever.

"We have sensed the enthusiasm by many locals surrounding the changes made to this year's festival," said board chair, Cameron Jackson.

"While we have had much support from volunteers committees and staff in the lead up to the festival, this year has also focused on welcoming back locals to join us celebrating our Australian Bush heritage, which will include Sunday being a free day for all locals.

"We have also welcomed a new general manager, Melissa Rice, who has led the team to incorporate exciting new features to the program and all-round happenings at the festival.

"With the success of last years Ag Field Days, we are bringing it back this year and it is set to kick off at 9am on Wednesday April 12th at the former primary school grounds.

"We would love to see more locals join us this year and hope the weather holds for us.

"The bush festival plays a vital role in the Upper Murray Community and it is greatly appreciated that it is recognised as such by government and supporting bodies.

"The festival board and staff express their deep appreciation to the sponsors, patrons, volunteers, competitors and landowners. Without their contribution this festival would not exist." Check out the Upper Murray Agricultural Field Days feature in today's issue which includes a Free Pass for locals. We will also be printing a special bush festival feature in our April 13th issue.

Police seek feedback about safety

As part of its commitment to Neighbourhood Policing, Victoria Police is seeking information about the community's safety concerns, engagement preferences and experiences of police in local areas.

All Victorians are being encouraged to complete a survey which is open until April 30th.

Victoria Police will use the responses to inform local safety plans and organisational priorities.

A summary of the results will be made available on the Engage Victoria website. Local summaries will be provided on Victoria Police Eyewatch page (Facebook) pages. You should also consider joining your local page for updates on this and other local Victoria Police issues.

Victoria Police has made it clear it is not seeking any identifying information. Any personal information you provide will be subject to the Privacy and Data Protection Act 2014 and the Health Records Act 2001.

The survey is available online at <https://engage.vic.gov.au/annual-victoria-police-community-sentiment-survey-2023>.

Listen out for the sirens

It's that iconic time of year again when CFA volunteers hit Victorian streets and rattle tins to fundraise for the annual Royal Children's Hospital (RCH) Good Friday Appeal.

The involvement of its members, fundraising from fire trucks and at traffic lights across the state has been a hallmark feature of the event for seven decades.

This year will no different with the local CFA units travelling around the district with lights and sirens going so keep an eye out and dig deep!

Clips dig deeper into our history

Corryong local, Vicki Kane, has created a YouTube channel titled 'Hidden History of the Upper Murray' which delves into past incidents and events in the region.

The channel was launched on the weekend and has already had more than 900 views and 25 subscriptions.

"With an increase of tourism due to Easter visitors and The Man from Snowy River Festival I wanted to create some clips that told more about the Upper Murray," Vicki said.

"We have such a rich history. It took resilience and community spirit to survive in this remote area."

Many of the articles focus on the use of horses in the town, such as a serious accident at the Lighthouse Crossing and the notorious hold-up at the Towong Races in 1927.

Popular clips have included war stories, explaining the presence of the Horrie statue and the hard work of the Red Cross in WWI. Of course, there is the newspaper article from the Corryong Courier that first reported Jack Riley's death to the world.

"I wanted to include all the sites and many businesses in the clip on Jack Riley since it will be very popular," Vicki said.

"It isn't perfect but in the short time I had to make the channel I've tried to give a positive and interesting impression of the Upper Murray.

"I hope this will encourage people to explore our district. In the next year I plan on adding more stories and improving my technique to create a more polished finish to the videos."

In the next fortnight visitors and locals will notice posters of the articles with QR codes around town. They can either read the article on the poster or listen to it via YouTube.

To view the clips and to subscribe go to <https://www.youtube.com/@hiddenhistory3707/>

Communities feel a new energy

The North East is Australia's most active community energy region and Corryong is at the forefront of new technology.

Indigo Power is driving a number of new initiatives including building community energy hubs in towns across the North East and Southern NSW.

It has partnered with 15 community energy groups, from Albury to Seymour, to deliver clean energy solutions, community energy hubs and local renewable generation and storage.

The loss of power in the Upper Murray during and after the 2019/2020 bushfires placed an additional strain on communities and emergency services and highlighted serious deficiencies in the system.

To address these issues, Indigo Power has partnered with Upper Murray Incorporated (UMI) to deliver the Upper Murray Place Based Power

Plan - Energy Resilience and Reliability Project, a combination of solar, battery and generator systems which have been supplied and installed across 23 sites in the region. Three community-scale batteries are nearing completion at Corryong Health, the Corryong Recreation Reserve and Walwa Bush Nursing Centre.

These energy systems include large solar PV and community-sized battery systems.

There have been 20 energy nodes installed which are now providing renewable energy to host sites every day and are ready to supply backup power during the next emergency outage.

For some of the publicly accessible sites, there will also be communications available in the event of an emergency. This will allow communications with a broad range of redundancy including satellite NBN, 4G boosters and localised communication solutions should there be the need.

Indigo Power is a community-owned energy company, based in regional Victoria and as a certified social enterprise, is committed to returning 50 per cent of its profits to clean energy and community projects in local towns. That means that more money that's spent here, stays here.

It is seeking community members to become part of the Upper Murray Community

Microgrid Interest Group, register your details at uppermurrayinc.com.au/media/microgridinterestgroup or to check on the general progress of the project visit uppermurrayinc.com.au.

Warning issued over algae outbreak

Snowy Valleys Council (SVC) has issued a blue-green algae Red Alert for Mannus Lake and warning signs are in effect at key recreational areas around the facility.

Red alert levels represent 'bloom' conditions. The water may appear green and may have strong, musty or organically polluted odours. Blue-green algae may be visible as clumps or as scums.

The 'blooms' should be considered to be toxic to humans and animals and the water should not be used for drinking (without prior treatment), stock watering or for recreation.

On advice from

WaterNSW people are reminded not to enter the water, not to drink untreated water or bathe in water drawn from the lake or creek while the red alert level warning is in place.

Livestock owners should monitor stock water supplies and remove stock from nearby areas where surface scum is visible or blue-green algae is suspected.

Council has increased water sampling at the lake and downstream to a weekly monitoring frequency and the Red Alert will be lifted when two consecutive samples fall below the high alert.

Blue-green algae occurs naturally at low levels in lakes and rivers, however they may reproduce quickly in favourable conditions where there is still or slowflowing water, abundant sunlight and available nutrients.

People who believe they may have been affected by blue-green algae are advised to seek medical advice.

Information updates about blue-green algae blooms and red level warning areas can be obtained from the Regional Algal Co-ordinating Committee freecall Algal Information Hotline on 1800 999 457 or visit www.water.nsw.gov.au.

Expo support swells

The 28th Tallangatta Expo will happen on Thursday April 20th at the Tallangatta Showgrounds and hopes to build on last year's event, which was the first for three years.

The pandemic still had an effect, with some exhibitors staying away due to uncertainty and some being forced to cancel at late stages due to staffing issues. However, in a very promising sign, visitor numbers were up significantly which bodes well for this year's event.

The success of the 'lifestyle/market' type exhibits has encouraged the organising committee to expand on this area, as it seemed to be particularly popular with visitors. This should once again be the case this year as the event falls during school holidays in both Victoria and NSW

Of course, the primary focus of the Tallangatta Expo will still be farming and visitors can expect to see a variety of exhibitors showcasing such things such as machinery, farm vehicles, aerial spraying, fencing, fodder and fertilisers.

The major sponsor for the event, RSA (Rotor Solutions Australia) will have one of their spray helicopters on site and will be keen to meet clients past present and future to discuss their needs with regard to aerial spraying.

Another highlight will be the presence of nbn Local Northeast Victoria. Their purpose is to help business and community understand and uplift their digital connectivity and capability. The nbn Local team will have a site at the Tallangatta Expo and will also do a presentation in the pavilion to give a broad overview of the role of the nbn Local and how to get the most out of it.

An added highlight will be the SES conducting a "simulated vehicle rescue" on site. This will have their specialised vehicle cutting equipment as well as the jaws of life on display.

This year's event will once again feature free gate entry for visitors but a gold coin donation would be appreciated, with proceeds to go towards local Rotary projects.

An added feature this year is a firewood raffle with $1000 worth of wood to be won in three draws ($500, $250, $250). Proceeds of this raffle will go to Shelterbox Australia, which is a Rotary Charity which undertakes to send practical aid to areas hit by flood, fire, famine, earthquakes and other disasters. Typically the aid is in the form of tents, bedding, utensils and water purifying equipment. Shelterbox has already started to be involved with the tragic earthquakes in Tukiye and Syria

Prospective exhibitors or visitors can find more information at www.tallangattaexpo.com.au or via email at tallangattaexpo@gmail.com.au.

Local fire restrictions lifted

The Fire Danger Period (FDP) finished at 1am on Monday in the following municipalities in CFA's District 24:

- Towong Shire Council
- Alpine Shire Council
- Indigo Shire Council
- Rural City of Wodonga
- Mt Hotham Alpine Resort
- Falls Creek Alpine Resort

While restrictions are lifting in these areas, CFA still expects the grassfire risk to remain across the state in the coming months so Victorians need to remain alert and prepared.

CFA District 24 Assistant Chief Fire Officer, Adrian Gutsche, said recent rainfall and easing of weather conditions means the risk of fires has been reduced, posing a suitable opportunity to lift the fire danger period restrictions across the six municipalities.

"We're urging everyone to stay safe, whether you're living in or travelling to high bushfire risk areas," he said.

"Please monitor the conditions on hot, dry and windy days, as we may still see some days of elevated fire risk."

The end of the Fire Danger Period (FDP) will be an opportunity for some landowners to burn-off again, however it's important that residents check that local conditions are safe before undertaking these activities.

"You must register your burn-offs, check weather conditions and follow local council laws and regulations," ACFO Gutsche said.

"Registering your burn-off ensures that if smoke or fire is reported, the incident is crosschecked with our register, which prevents firefighters from unnecessarily responding.

"When conducting burn-offs, remain alert

The risk of grassfires remains high.

and always have resources on hand to extinguish the fire."

Landowners can register their burn-off online at www.firepermits.vic.gov.au or call 1800 668 511.

If possible, landowners should also notify their neighbours and others nearby who may be sensitive to smoke so they can take necessary precautions.

Tips for looking after your health when there is smoke can be found on EPA's website.

Keep your burn off safe and legal:-

- Check fire restrictions in your area and always register your burn at www.firepermits.vic.gov.au.
- Check and monitor weather conditions particularly wind.
- To avoid unnecessary calls to emergency services, notify your neighbours beforehand.
- Leave a three-metre fire break, free from flammable materials around the burn.

- Have sufficient equipment and water to stop the fire spreading.
- Never leave a burn-off unattended - stay for its entire duration.
- If your burn-off gets out of control call '000' immediately.

Teams stepped up to the challenge

Pony club members enjoyed the 'amazing' event.

On Sunday, the Tintalra Recreation Reserve was a hive of excitement, with Jingellic Pony Club members eager to compete in The Amazing Race in-house competition.

Groups were put to the task, solving 15 different clues to find the matching activity where they needed to work as a team and complete before moving onto the next challenge.

After the barbecue lunch break, teams were back at it to finish their challenges and make their way to the final Pit Stop.

The riders thoroughly enjoyed the day and said it was a whole lot of fun.

Jingellic Pony Club often likes to think outside the box for activities for their riders, mixing it up, keeping it fun and engaging while learning skills they can apply to all different forms of disciplines while riding; without them even realising as they are having too much fun.

Congratulations to Team Blue - Maddy McColl, Huon McLeod and Declan Shore - taking out the gold medallions. It was a very close finish between second and third place with Team Orange

- Charlotte, Fletcher and Evie McColl - winning silver and Team Pink - Shoney, Matilda and Ellie Shore - coming home with the bronze.

Rally days are held at the Tintalra Recreation Reserve, once a month and new members are always welcome. For enquiries contact 0428 482 328.

THANKS

Agmate Rural Services, Corryong

We would like to thank Pete Clarke for his nine years of service to the business. Pete came on board a week into Agmate Rural starting after the changeover from McLeans Rural Merchandise.

Pete's always been a very reliable member of our team and usually good for a laugh as we discussed managing his herd of cattle and alpacas!

He will be missed in the business but we wish him and his now extended family all the best in the future.

Upper Murray Sport

Cudgewa courts light up

Upper Murray tennis clubs have been very fortunate to receive funding for the refurbishment of several courts throughout the area and the Cudgewa community is planning on making good use of its refurbished facility including the new lights, by starting up a night tennis competition.

The competition will run during the second school term on Monday and Tuesday nights from 6.30pm beginning on Monday April 24th. A minimum of four teams and maximum of five will be required for the tournament to go ahead.

Teams are to consist of four players and will be based on a ranking system from 1-4 (with any combination of gender). Secondary students who have the ability to serve and rally are encouraged to get involved.

Play will consist of three doubles sets (first to six), with players hitting against their similarly ranked opponents for the whole night, while playing one set with each teammate.

Organisers of the competition will need to approve rankings to ensure an even playing field before teams are accepted. Any fill-in players will need to be of the correct ranking (for example, a No. 1 player cannot fill in as a No. 4 player and vice versa).

The cost will be $5 per player each week, to cover ball fees and lights.

Players will also need to be a member of a local tennis club.

To nominate a team or to put your name down to join a team or be a fill-in email Kate Fair at khancobantennis@outlook.com.

Locals lead their class

The Grassroots Hard Enduro event over a gruelling two days on the weekend at Towong Upper was hotly contested and two young local riders impressed with their performances.

The Bronze Class was won by Reece Findlay (725 points) and Lachie Nugent placed third (630 points, juts 10 behind the second placegetter).

The Gold Class event was staken out by Ruben Chadwick with 725 points, well ahead of Adam Giles on 660.

Charity event heralds new season

Another very successful fund raising event was recently held by the Corryong Ladies Golf Club on the season's opening day, incorporating the Irema Brown Memorial Shield.

The 9-hole mixed golf 4BBB was won by visitors Gale Brammich (Tumbarumba) and Don Crosthwaite (Yakandandah) with 20 stableford points from new player Belinda McKimmie (Corryong) and John Bennett (Welaregang) on 19 points with the local team of John Whitised and Colleen Wood on 18 points.

Malcolm and Caryn Brown made the presentations in honour of Irema. A sit-down lunch was enjoyed by 75 people which was a very sociable get together. Following lunch guest speakers from Corryong Health, Elise Wilson and Lorraine Carkeek, outlined a range of topics of general interest regarding health facilities and programs available in Corryong. Pamphlets and information booklets were available for guests. The presentation was very well received

An incredible array of donations were made for the raffle. A huge thank you to Caryn Brown who organised the raffle donations from Corryong businesses including RC Brown and family, Corryong IGA, Costello Rural, A Little Thyme, Hobie's Sports Store, Corryong Newsagency, Legends Restaurant, Upper Murray Pizza, Lil & Tess as well as numerous individual donations from golfers and others. This made for a fun time of discovery as winners opened their surprise packages.

A huge thank you to all donors for this great fundraising event for Parkinson's disease awareness.

Thank you also to Lorraine Paton for organising the luncheon together with all her helpers in the kitchen, to Sue Morley for organising the golf event and to all who helped make the day such a success.

A cheque for $2118.50 will be forwarded to Parkinson's Research Australia.

Bowls season winds up

Bowlers enjoyed a final game before the season close.

The last ladies club event took place during the week, with the final of the 100 Up competition being played between Pat Sheather and Wilma Hill. Pat was the winner, with her many years of experience being the telling factor against Wilma, who is a relatively new player.

Proving that 'age shall not weary them', Pat capped off a stellar season after being a member of the winning Mixed Pairs and Ladies Triples Championship teams.

On Sunday there was a very good attendance at our Closing Day. In the morning 30 players were on the green, enjoying a fun game of bowls. Peter Mongan's team was awarded the winner's prize and Nick Barlee's team the loser's prize.

There was a very enjoyable lunch, with barbecued meat and shared salads, followed by the usual delicious desserts. There are some good cooks around!

After lunch the AGM was held - the election of office bearers being the main item. Noel Blake was returned as President and Lindy O'Connor continues as Treasurer. Catherine Ross is stepping down as Secretary but will continue as Assistant Secretary. There were no nominations for the position of Secretary - a solution to this problem must be found. Anyone out there want to put their hand up? All other positions were satisfactorily filled.

Life Membership of the club was awarded to Ken McKimmie for his years of untiring work for the club. Ken is a very worthy recipient of this recognition.

The club is looking forward to next season, which will commence on September 10th.

The season's presentations were then held, proud moments for all the winners. Mention must be made of our Singles Champions - Rohan Whitehead and Cheryl C Smedley.

There were three members reaching the 80 milestone during the season - Faye McKimmie, Neville Clarke and Ken Sheather.

While all this was going on a former Corryong member was involved in the Victorian Open Singles at the Moama Bowls Club.

Carol Fair, now representing Kiewa Valley, made it to the final and was pipped for the title on the final end in a very close match.

Carol was down 18-20 but holding three shots for match, when her opponent, Jenny Miller (Leongatha) took the kitty into the ditch with her last bowl giving her the win 21-18.

It was a terrific achievement Carol and we are very proud of you!

The Hammer is taking a break now, but we're all still rolling on!
