Major recovery works funded

Corryong golfers will soon be playing on state-of-the-art synthetic greens.

Three projects in the Upper Murray have received funding under the third and final round of the Local Community Projects Grants program.

The sand scrape greens at the Corryong golf course will be replaced with state-of-the-art synthetic turf following an announcement that the Corryong Sporting Complex (CSC) had been successful with an application for bushfire recovery funding and $327,004 is being provided to support the golf course upgrade.

A $304,420 upgrade of the facilities at the Tintaldra Recreation Reserve will also be funded.

The grants are jointly funded by the Commonwealth and Victorian governments under the Disaster Recovery Funding Arrangements (DRFA).

The Corryong project will provide a 'point of difference' as a golfing facility and enhanced golfing experience for locals and visitors alike as well as promoting healing and recovery through the encouraging of healthy activities and connection.

"This is a real game changer for the sport of golf in the region," said Corryong Sporting Complex president, Shane Blake.

"The expected increase in tourism visitation will have a positive impact on the regional economy.

"With increased local participation through formal golf programs, particularly for older citizens and youth, it will also help improve the physical and mental wellbeing of bushfire-affected community members.

"Our thanks go to the Commonwealth and Victorian governments for delivering this important funding as part of its bushfire recovery process."

Grants support major works

It is expected that the golf club project will be completed by mid-2023.

It will complement the local lawn bowls and tennis clubs at the Corryong Recreation Reserve which have both recently installed synthetic surfaces.

After the disappointment of being ruled ineligible for the Black Summer Bushfire Grants, the Committee of Management of the Tintaldra Recreation Reserve is thrilled to have received funding for the revitalisation of the community facility.

The improvements will include renovated tennis courts, new age-appropriate play equipment for under fives and resurfacing of the equine area.

It is expected that the works will begin soon with the courts being completed by summer 2023/24.

A grant of $183,101 was also announced for the for the Upper Murray Region Community Catering Hub to construct a shed to house catering equipment that the community will have low-cost access to during emergencies and for public events and training.

Startup Shakeup Inc will receive $225,000 for provision of in-region digital training for small businesses and community organisations within Towong and Alpine Shires.

Member for Indi, Helen Haines, said this funding added to the total of bushfire funding that had already been allocated to the electorate.

"More than $121 million in bushfire recovery funding has flowed to Indi since the Black Summer bushfires including for community-building projects like the ones funded in this latest round.

"It is positive to see funding awarded for the Tintaldra Recreation Reserve, which was wrongly rejected for funding by the former Federal government due to a technicality about their ABN."

The DRFA program has made $3.7 million available to 10 community organisations to deliver projects that support the recovery of the local economy, building a sense of community pride and connectedness.

Victorian Minister for Emergency Services, Jaclyn Symes, said the funding supports major projects to boost business, jobs and industry across the region and smaller, local-level projects to benefit community recovery after the fires.

"Locals know best when it comes to what they need to recover and rebuild from disaster," she said.

"We've always been guided by them when it comes to recovery and we'll continue to back affected communities through that journey for as long as it takes."

Other community organisations in Victoria to receive bushfire recovery funding include Alpine Health, Benambra Neighbourhood House, East Gippsland Rail Trail, Totally Renewable Yackandandah, Wilderness Workspace in Mallacoota and new sporting and recreation facilities in Buchan.

The equine area at the Tintaldra Recreation Reserve will be resurfaced.

Locals ride for a cancer cure

Two cycling enthusiasts are saddling up for a four-day trek in the Victorian high country to raise funds for cancer research.

You are likely to have seen Towong Shire Councillor, Peter Dikschei, along with Corryong Health CEO, Dom Sandilands, training on local roads in preparation for the High Country Charity Ride from Thursday February 23rd until Sunday February 26th over Mount Hotham and through North East townships - a distance of 550 kilometres.

They are both passionate about helping to raise funds for vital cancer projects through the Tour de Cure cycling initiative. Specifically, funds this year will be directed to supporting the Albury Wodonga Cancer Centre.

The pair would love to receive support in helping them raise as much money as possible.

Through inspirational cycling tours and events across Australia, Tour de Cure funds the boldest research, the most talented scientists and the pioneering projects that it believes have the greatest potential impact to find a cure for cancer.

Obituary:- Edna Anderson

1.10.1934-27.1.2023

Educator became a local institution

Edna was born on October 1st, 1934 in Auckland, New Zealand. She was the second daughter of Charles and Gladys Godfrey.

Edna's childhood was a strict but happy one. She was born during the Depression and consequently the family, like everyone else, struggled to make ends meet. One of her pursuits was table tennis - something she briefly returned to after her retirement.

However, it was her love of books and reading which lay the foundation for her life long career as an educator.

Being a child of the depression shaped Edna's future. Her parents placed great importance on education. In 1954 Edna, having set her sights on a career as a teacher, immigrated to Australia.

Avondale College was home for the two-year duration of Edna's teacher training. Friendships were forged at Avondale that endured for life.

Edna's first teaching position was at Glen Huon, Tasmania, where she taught Prep to Grade six. Next she was posted to Albury for two years then Adelaide. She met her husband in Albury and they married in Adelaide.

However, the marriage did not last. Edna and her son Malcolm moved back to Albury. Her parents-in-law were extremely supportive during this difficult time looking after Malcolm while Edna worked. There were no teaching positions so she worked in the warehouse of Aywon Clothing in Albury.

It was 1964. An advertisement placed by the Shire of Upper Murray appeared in the Border Morning Mail seeking applicants for the position of Pre-school Director/Teacher. Corryong was experiencing a small population boom thanks to the Snowy Scheme. With those workers came their families, many with small children.

Edna was interviewed by Shire Secretary, Greg Tate; Pre-school President, Pat Lines; and Treasurer Nola Hillier and three other committee members. Edna's appointment to the position was the beginning of the time in which most people came to know her.

It was the beginning of a long and rewarding career and her membership of the Corryong community.

Her first year in Corryong was difficult. Edna boarded in town during the week and returned to Albury at weekends where Malcolm was living with his grandparents.

Edna's resourcefulness showed through again. Working as a waitress in Albury on weekends was possible using the skills she learnt when saving for her air fare to Australia.

Number 14, Hamilton Crescent, Corryong became their home for the next few years. Malcolm was able to move from Albury and Edna's mother was able to move to Australia. Their next move was to 71 Towong Road in 1970.

In 1973 Edna took on further studies to ensure her ongoing employment. The Department of Education, which had carriage of pre-school education, offered a three-year teaching degree compressed into one year of full time study. Edna moved to Melbourne for that year and Malcolm returned to his grandparents in Albury.

It was a difficult time as there was little income. Edna secured a position as a student hostel supervisor. For the trouble of ensuring the doors were locked at night and providing supervision to a group of home economics students, she received accommodation and her meals.

Edna and Malcolm returned to Corryong in 1974.

By 1976 Edna was eligible for long service leave. Having saved they were able to take a three month overseas holiday. Their destinations were France, Switzerland, Italy, Austria, Germany, Holland, England, Scotland, Wales, Norway, Denmark, Sweden and Singapore. For Edna this was followed by teacher study tours to Japan, Soviet Russia and England in 1977 and 1978.

Over the following years Edna's mind was never far from further education. Through external studies she completed a Graduate Diploma of Educational Studies, a Bachelor of Early Childhood Education and Graduate Diploma of Special Education.

The Edna Anderson people knew as a teacher and community member was the same as the private person.

"Having known her all my life I am glad to tell a little of her story, the way she lived, the convictions and principles she held and the choices she made," Malcolm said.

"Her devotion to her job and the community were her driving motivations.

"My mother was a person of the highest integrity. Her counsel, professional wisdom and knowledge were sought and respected.

"My mother was always interested in substance over appearances. She could relate easily and authentically to anyone, with a genuine interest in the important things in life, be they large or small. She had an enduring capacity for friendship and loyalty and an endearing honesty about herself.

"Her trademark was her directness but it was rarely without warmth; never wavering from her quiet insistence that the whole issue be considered. It was one of the ways she respected the dignity of those she encountered. To listen to other points of view, to imagine yourself in the shoes of others.

"For Edna respect had to be earned. It was not given by virtue of another's position or authority but how they exercised those things.

At the core of my mother's amenable character were values she did not even know how to compromise. She had nothing to gain by asserting them - it was just how she was. An earthy person, with the courage - often tested - to put forward her point of view if the situation demanded it. "Her values were ones that connected her to the community around her. It is a good way of summing up how she saw the world. In her view that world was never small. It always had purpose and meaning."

Many of the children Edna taught loved their time at pre-school. And in many cases so did their children too.

Edna's retirement in 2002 did not mean retirement from life. She set about finding outlets for herself which, in her unchangeable way, ensured she continued to contribute.

Receiving the Citizen of the Year award and nomination for Senior Citizen of the Year in 2007 came as a great surprise and meant much to her.

"We will continue on with our lives but so will the memory of my mother continue on," Malcolm said.

"In her own practical fashion my mother would not have wanted any great fuss. For her there was always hope and a sense of looking forward to what each new day would bring. "It is my hope that her memory and the respect she held can be seen in the contribution she made to people's lives. "A beautiful person. A life well lived."

Be aware of changed road conditions

Motorists are advised of changed traffic conditions on the Alpine Way so that essential maintenance can be performed.

Slope strengthening work will be carried out at various locations between Khancoban and Geehi.

Work will be carried out between 7am and 5pm on weekdays from this week to Friday 14 April, weather permitting.

Single lane closures, traffic control and a reduced speed limit of 40 km/h will be in place for the safety of workers and motorists for the duration of the project.

Drivers are advised to drive to the conditions, allow an extra 15 minutes travel time and follow the directions of signs and traffic control.

Transport for NSW thanks motorists for their patience during this time.

For the latest traffic updates download the Live Traffic NSW app, visit livetraffic.com or call 132 701.

Slope strengthening work may cause traffic delays.

Government blasted over regional roads

The Liberal Member for Northern Victoria, Wendy Lovell, has used the first sitting week of State Parliament to blast the Victorian government on the current condition of roads in regional Victoria.

Speaking during the adjournment debate to the new Minister for Roads and Road Safety, Melissa Horne, Ms Lovell described the condition of Victoria's regional road network as "deplorable" and laid the blame squarely at the feet of Labor's chronic underinvestment in road maintenance over the last eight years.

Ms Lovell said that the government had never prioritised the maintenance and safety of regional roads, evidenced by the scrapping of the Liberal Nationals Coalition's Country Roads and Bridges Program upon winning government in 2014. The program provided $160 million to 40 small regional councils and shires to maintain and repair local roads.

Ms Lovell said the poor condition of regional roads had even caused high-ranking public servants from Victoria Police and the Department of Transport to publicly speak out.

In a Weekly Times article 'Broken roads frustrating' dated 25 January 2023, Victoria Police Road Policing Command Assistant Commissioner, Glenn Weir, was quoted as saying "officers were constantly alerting road authorities or local councils to the parlous condition of Victoria's road network".

In the same article, Chief, Regional Transport for the Department of Transport, Paul Northey, was quoted as saying "there was a current shortfall in money available for regional road repair."

Ms Lovell called on Minister Horne to unveil her plan to fix Victoria's regional roads and match or better the Coalition's election commitment of at least $1 billion a year for the next ten years to complete the intensive maintenance program required.

"Road users must ensure their cars are roadworthy but sadly our roads are not roadworthy because of the chronic lack of funding from the government since their election in 2014," Ms Lovell added

Warning issued to rural drivers

The latest police intelligence shows that there were 24 lives lost from collisions on rural roads as of 30 January, a 64 per cent increase on the five-year average for fatal regional collisions in January.

Assistant Commissioner Road Policing, Glenn Weir, said "It is a common misconception that it's not locals losing their lives on country roads but that couldn't be further from the truth.

"The reality is, people residing in regional areas make up the majority of those killed on rural roads."

Of the 24 lives lost on rural roads, 21 resided in regional locations and two worked in regional centres.

Eighteen of those collisions occurred within 100kms of the deceased's residence.

More than 85 per cent of rural fatalities occurred on high-speed rural roads, with speed limits between 80km/h to 110km/h.

"Distraction and basic road user error is significantly contributing to regional lives lost," Assistant Commissioner Weir said.

"It just shows a simple lapse in concentration can have catastrophic consequences.

"It is imperative all road users remain alert, particularly when travelling on high-speed rural roads.

Police are urging regional road users to take more care as the state enters another particularly high-risk period.

"It's been a terrible start to the year on our roads, and we're entering another particularly high-risk period. Please don't be complacent and think that road trauma can't happen to you, because a split-second of inattention is all it takes," Assistant Commissioner Weir said.

"Police will be doing everything they can to reduce road trauma during this high-risk period but we need everyone to do their bit."

For more information and tips for staying safe on the roads visit the Road Safety page on the Victoria Police website.

Young ballers get a taste

Two junior Corryong teams competed in the Wodonga Representative Tournament on the weekend and although neither recorded a win, the experience will stand them in good stead for future competitions.

The Under 14 Boys (Division 3) and Under 16 Girls (Division 2) sides certainly looked the part in their new uniforms thanks to the support of the Rotary Club of Corryong, Hobie's Sports Store and the Corryong Amateur Basketball Association (CABA).

Lach McKimmie (#4) brings the ball into attack against Euroa with Michael Boers (#1) and Nicholas Harrison (#9) providing support.

TEE TO GREEN

Corryong
 The more flexible weekend competition is attracting more players and the inaugural winner of an IGA chook voucher was Ron Pynappels who followed up with a second victory the following week.
 This weekend's event is a 9-hole stableford (front 9).
 The following weekend is the first monthly medal for 2023, a stroke event over 18 holes with a $100 prize on offer for the best nett score.
 Golfers are reminded that membership fees are now due and payable. You must be a financial member to be eligible for prizes from February 24th.
Welaregang
 Having been knocked off the top of the table last week, the little master Ken Lebner bounced back to his best with a solid 20 points on Saturday, four clear of runner-up Rob Cox.
 This season's Summer Cup has developed into a very keenly contested competition with just seven points between the top five players, with the lead changing regularly. With six rounds to go however, it would be foolhardy to bet against the tenacious Lebner, who seems to be able to produce a good round when it matters and also 'talks' a good game.
 The 9 @ 9 comp will continue this Saturday before reverting to Sunday mornings on February 26th, for three weeks.
 The club's AGM was well attended on Saturday, with all office bearers continuing in their positions. A focal point of enticing new members will see numerous ambrose days for new players throughout the clubs program for 2023.

New faces feature in final

Last Thursday the final of the Ladies Championship Pairs was held and in a very good game and in a changing of the guard, Cath Ross and Wilma Hill defeated Linda Carson and Mandy Gleeson. It's great to see newer members featuring in these events.

Pennant news:- On Saturday the weekend team travelled to Wodonga for the last round before the finals. Wodonga needed a win to have a chance of making the four, so were very keen.

All three matches were very close and with two games finished and the result still in doubt everyone was watching as the last end was played in the final match!

It was relief for the Corryong team as they had the narrowest of wins

59/58! This leaves us on top of the ladder with Kiewa, Dederang and Tallangatta also in. This Saturday we play Kiewa in the Qualifying Final.

The midweek team had to forfeit last Tuesday due to a lack of availability of many members. This unfortunately leaves Corryong out of the finals race with one match to go, which was an away game against Kiewa this week.

The ladder at present is Howlong, Corowa RSL, Beechworth, Kiewa with Chiltern only a few points behind. It has been a good competitive season for us, with most teams close.

On Wednesday the men played 4 x 2 pairs and the winners were Noel Blake and Roy Byrne.

On Sunday the Mens 100 Up commenced.
