Residents and visitors to the Upper Murray are now enjoying improved mobile phone coverage and connectivity, with the recent construction of three new Telstra mobile base stations in the region.

Two towers have been built at Koetong and Burrowye and a new small-cell base station has been activated south-west of Cudgewa under the federal government's Mobile Black Spot Program.

Telstra Regional General Manager, Jenny Gray, said these mobile base stations will create new Telstra 4G coverage and help reduce mobile coverage black spots.

"We know the community's been looking forward to this new mobile site and I'm pleased to say we've completed construction and been able to bring these sites on-air," Ms Gray said.

"Each day across Australia we have about 20 million devices using our mobile network, making about 60 million phone calls, sending 40 million SMS and using about 8.6 million Gigabytes of mobile data.

"Co-investment programs such as this, where carriers like Telstra and the government work together to share the cost in bringing new coverage in regional and rural locations, are really important in helping improve connectivity outcomes.

"We know how important that is today and these new sites not only help reduce mobile black spots in this area but also improve capacity and 4G coverage and provide additional triple zero connectivity.

"Building these new sites, in partnership with the government, shows we are committed to delivering vital infrastructure and upgrades to boost throughout this area."

Speakers shine light on 'the black dog'

Former AFL footballer, Justin Koschitzke, helps rural communities to find strength in their shared experiences,

The third annual 'Corryong Spirit' event next month will shine a light into the darkness of grief and the guest speakers include former AFL footballer Justin Koschitzke and Rev Tim Costello, one of Australia's most respected community leaders.

Justin Koschitzke's name is etched in the annals of Australian Football League (AFL) history. The #2 draft pick's storied career with St Kilda is marked by determination, teamwork, and resilience, navigating the extreme highs and lows and being able to slowly transition his elite sporting career into his current role as a mental health speaker.

Raised on a farm at Brocklesby, Justin has spent his life immersed in the world of agriculture, facing the same challenges and celebrating the same triumphs as his fellow farmers. His deep connection to the farming community drives his mission to support and uplift those who are often overlooked and underserved.

In recent years, Justin has dedicated himself to being a mental health advocate, focusing on the unique struggles faced by rural communities. He has seen the devastating impact of natural disasters, through his own farming community, leading to the loss of livestock, property.

These experiences have only strengthened his resolve to make a difference.

Justin's talks are rooted in empathy and understanding.

He doesn't just speak about mental health, he lives it. Having navigated his own mental health challenges, Justin brings a level of authenticity and relatability that resonates deeply with his audience.

He understands the pride and resilience of rural communities and he knows the importance of addressing mental health in a way that respects these values.

His goal is to help rural communities to find strength in their shared experiences, offering practical advice and creating a space for open and honest conversation about mental health and to provide the tools needed to build a more resilient future.

Rev Tim Costello AO is one of Australia's most respected community leaders and a sought after voice on social justice issues, leadership and ethics.

Tim is currently the Executive Director of Micah Australia which works to raise awareness and support for overseas Aid and Development. He is also Director of Ethical Voice through which he speaks in many contexts.

For 13 years until October 2016, Tim was Chief Executive of World Vision Australia (WVA).

Other positions Tim currently holds are Senior Advisor for the Centre for Public Christianity, Chair of the Community Council of Australia; Chief Advocate of the Thriving Communities Partnership. In 2021 he was appointed by Monash University as Chair of Peninsula Campus Community Advisory Committee.

Tim is a spokesperson for the Alliance for Gambling Reform, which campaigns for law reform to prevent harm from poker machine gambling. In 2006 Tim was named

Victoria's Australian of the Year; in June 2005 was made an Officer of the Order of Australia (AO); in 2004, was named Victorian of the Year; and in 1997 was named as one of Australia's 100 National Living Treasures

He has also written several books about mental health and gambling issues.

'Corryong Spirit' is an opportunity to acknowledge those whose lives were lost in our community and come together to reflect on our own hardships that we have endured.

The event will be held on Friday August 16th from 5pm to 7.30pm in the Attree Centre. Bring a chair or picnic rug and warm blankets and beanies.

Alliance prepares for fire season

The Softwoods Working Group has engaged major stakeholders to develop a strategy to safeguard the softwood forestry industry in the Murray Region Hub ahead of the upcoming bushfire season.

A $13M forestry funding package from the NSW government is aimed at protecting essential timber supplies in the region and will support key fire prevention, detection and response initiatives.

The funding package was developed through consultation with local communities, forestry industry groups and government agencies.

"It's absolutely critical that we get all the stakeholders involved to understand what we have, where our risks are and where are the vital assets that need protecting" said Carlie Porteous, SWG Executive Officer.

"The infrastructure and assets that were considered by the group involved both physical capital expenditures and digital infrastructure such as IT integration and communications, with a focus on securing much of it by the beginning of the fire season."

In the Black Summer bushfires in 2019-20, six bushfires in Victoria and NSW merged near Jingellic, forming a huge blaze covering 632,315 hectares (1,532,484 acres).

"The funding initiative is key to enhancing the region's overall safety and resilience," said Peter Crowe, SWG Chair, added that.

"By investing in critical fire prevention and response infrastructure, the project aims to protect not only the forestry industry but also the homes, livelihoods and well-being of the people living in the Murray region"

During the meeting, stakeholders discussed various critical aspects, including the current state of play and the region's fire risks related to fuel load, terrain and the location of essential assets such as future wood supply, mills, orchards and critical infrastructure.

They also evaluated the existing infrastructure, its locations and the human resources available to operate it, identifying gaps and prioritising new infrastructure needs.

(The Murray Region Forestry Hub takes in about 3.5million hectares in the area east of the

Hume Freeway; west of the Great Dividing Range, south of Gundagai and taking in the plantations of NE Victoria down to Lake Eildon. Key forestry towns in the NSW part of the hub are Tumut, Batlow, Tumbarumba, Gundagai and Adelong.

In the Victorian Hub area the main centres for the industry are Corryong, Tallangatta, Myrtleford and Wangaratta).

Nursing home gets a funding 'push'

A community event that raised funds for the Corryong Hospital more than 50 years ago will be replicated this October in support of the Mittamatite Lodge residential aged care facility.

The first 'Push-a-Thon' in 1972 (pictured) involved participants in transporting a 'patient' by various means around Corryong including wheelchairs and hospital beds and even a horse buggy!

The reincarnation of the event will be held on Saturday October 5th - Corryong Show Day - and the co-ordinators are seeking support from community groups to get sponsorship and participate. Local businesses are also invited to get involved.

The parade will travel from the hospital car park and enter the Corryong showgrounds via the Stock Route Road on Show Day.

Corryong CBD Update

Last week, we had two crews working on Stages 3 and 5. Stage 3, located between the IGA and WAW Bank, commenced with the demolition of the footpath and kerb, as well as drainage pit work in preparation for pouring concrete. We completed electrical conduit installation in Stage 3, replaced the fascia and installed downpipes in front of the café. Additionally, the footpath concrete for Stage 5 was poured, and the planting for Stage 2 began.

This week we will continue to have two crews working along Hanson St in Stage 3 and 5. These works include replacing awning posts and footings for the IGA building verandah, building drainage pits, and prepping for kerb placement in Stage 3 and saw-cutting ashlar patten for the footpath in front of Memorial Hall. These saw cuts are made to relieve pressure from the concrete to prevent it from cracking.

To ensure the safety of community members and site workers temporary fences will be installed around work areas.

We thank you for your patience and cooperation as we carry out these tasks.

Obituary:- Marjorie Rose Carkeek

Matriarch enriched her family and community

Marj was born Margaret Rose Ritchie and had her name changed to Marjorie later, after she was adopted. She was born in Mortlake on June 18th, 1934 to parents David and Queenie Richie (nee Perkins) who had migrated from England with their families.

Marj's sister Muriel was born in 1936 and another sister Lillian Joyce was born in 1937. In 1938 her mother, then only 20, walked out on the family as she couldn't cope. Marj, aged three and Muriel, aged two, were placed in St Luke's Toddlers' Home in Bendigo. The baby, Lillian Joyce, was adopted into the Kerr family at Kerang. Marj's father decided to join the army and paid part of his wages to support the girls at St Luke's.

Life in St Luke's was frugal, particularly with the general wartime restrictions. While the children were well fed, love and hugs were as scarce as hen's teeth... non-existent. Marj and Muriel stayed there until April 1941.

Marj remembers the adoption process being nothing short of drafting animals for sale, the children being displayed on one side of the glass wall and the prospective parents parading on the other side of a glass wall making remarks. Marj said it was horrible and made her feel very judged.

Marj was adopted into the Stephens family at Yarrowalla at aged six and Muriel was left at Saint Luke's for a short time and then went to the Leo family at Kangaroo Flat.

The Stephens couple were approaching 50 years old and already had a son of their own Keith, who was nine years older than Marj. Marj's name was changed from Margaret to Marjorie at that time, a name which she never liked but learnt to tolerate.

She attended school at Yarrowalla South Primary but school was difficult because she was 'that girl from the home who was living at the Stephens. The teacher, Mrs O'Brien, once asked her to take a letter to the post box on the corner, which was a few minutes' walk. Marj was none the wiser but while she was away, Mrs O'Brien gathered all the other students together and told them that they had to treat Marj better and not to make a thing of how she was dressed. Her best friend from school only told her this about this 10 years ago!

After Marj finished school, the family moved off the farm into Pyramid Hill. She found life in a small town very different to life on the farm. She wasn't used to mixing with other young people but soon learned. She played tennis and went to school camps and dances.

Her first job was at a garage where she served petrol and did office work. After a few months there, she applied for and got a job in the office of the butter factory, which she really enjoyed. She stayed there until she started nursing at age of 17 at Northern District School of Nursing in Bendigo.

In July 1954 she travelled to Cudgewa, where her brother Keith was the Methodist minister, to support her sister-in-law Betty looking after their two children, Helen and Bill, while a third child Joan was born.

That is where she met her future husband Bill at church.

Marj returned to Pyramid Hill and the couple continued to meet as often as they could. Marj moved to nurse at Yackandandah Bush Nursing Hospital so they could be closer.

Bill and Marj became engaged in 1954 and married in 1955. They lived with Bill's parents for four years and in this time, had their first two children Dianne and Peter.

They then bought a house in Cudgewa township which was home for 10 years. In that time, they had six more children - Bronwyn, twins Sue and Annette, Ian, John and Andrew.

In 1969 they purchased the family farm and moved from the township onto the property. Apart from the enormous chores Marj had with family, attending to all their needs and making many of their clothes, over time Marj also made wedding dresses and bridesmaids' dresses for the family as she was a skilled seamstress.

There were always children's friends and acquaintances coming and going, never without a warm greeting, a cuppa and food and a genuine interest in their activities.

Marj and Bill were very committed to community work of all types, attending working bees and cooking for fundraisers. In 1987 Marj was a major force in organising the centenary of the local church.

During this time Marj's thoughts were always wondering about her real family. In 1977 the three sisters - Marj, Muriel and Joyce - got together for the first time in 40 years since Marj went into St Luke's orphanage.

After endeavouring to connect with her mother for many decades, in 1980 she was fortunate to locate her. Her mother's first words were "When I left you at St Lukes at three years old, you said I'll be back Mum. And although it has taken you over 40 years you are here."

Those two hours were the only time Marj had with her birth mother between three years of age and her mother's passing.

In 1988 Marj and Bill made the decision to move to the Goulburn Valley to be closer to family, as seven of their children had already relocated there seeking better opportunities for dairying and family which proved to be very fruitful one.

During their 22 years on that farm they increased its size and cow numbers, which Marj was very proud of. She was very good at doing the farm books.

Marj enjoyed baby-sitting her grandchildren and joining in their schooling and sporting activities. Bill and her also joined the local Probus club and church family and got involved in any activities that promoted dairy and agriculture.

The couple retired into Numurkah in 2009 after selling the farm. Marj enjoyed reading at Pioneer Lodge and doing meals-on-wheels which she did for many years.

The Carkeek family Christmases and annual Good Friday events were favourite times of the year when the large family got together, something Marj and Bill enjoyed greatly.

They also enjoyed their holidays together and although the trips were few, they were enjoyable and covered all the Australian states.

Marj and Bill's family grew from eight children to 21 grandchildren and 26 great grandchildren, aged from nine months to nearly 21 years. Marj was very proud of all of their achievements and worked hard to encourage and support them in every way.

Barber goes for gold

Australian javelin thrower, Kelsey-Lee Barber, who spent some of her formative years in Corryong, is focused on adding an Olympic gold medal in Paris to go with the bronze she won in Tokyo in 2020.

It was her family's relocation to Australia in her teenage years that put the then Kelsey-Lee Roberts on her athletics pathway.

She arrived from South Africa during the Sydney Olympics in 2000 and lived in Corryong where her uncle and aunt owned a dairy farm.

She competed in athletics at the Corryong College carnival and progressed in the discus events through the zone and regional carnivals.

After moving from Corryong to Canberra in 2007, Barber took athletics more seriously, switched to the javelin and started training with a coach.

At her last four major championships - Commonwealth Games, Olympics and two World Championships, Kelsey-Lee has a stunning record of winning three gold, a silver and two bronze medals.

In 2023, she competed on her 10th Australian team at her fifth world championships in Budapest but was unable to make history by winning a third consecutive world title.

In June, the 32-year-old athlete revealed that she had been battling an elbow issue in the lead-up to Paris but she is now set to compete in the qualifying heats which start on Wednesday August 8th.

TEE TO GREEN

Welaregang

Bill Bond stayed 'hot' in the arctic conditions, taking out the Captain's Trophy by four points and qualifying for the McGrath Cup matchplay semi final with a 4/3 win over Lance Noonan.

Bill's 33 points left the others playing for the scraps. Paul Land rescued his day with a solid 18 points on the back nine to take the runner-up prize with 29 points and also qualified for a matchplay semi final, defeating Bill Sheather 5/4.

This sets up two intriguing clashes in the coming weeks with Bill Bond starting favorite against Rob Cox while the match between Tony Jarvis and Paul Land is an even money bet!

This Sunday is R4 of the Monthly Medal competition, teeing off at 11 am.

Defensive pressure in the arc was spot on with Sarah Albert in GK getting a hand on everything. Our midcourters ran all day and continue to show improvement each week. The girls trust each other down the court and are patient with their passes.

It was great to have Pip back after a few weeks off soaking in some sun, showing her confidence and comradeship in the ring. Despite the cool weather, the girls gave it their all and shouldn't be disappointed with the results.

Awards: Sarah Albert, Bella McKimmie, Pip Brown.

C Grade:- It was a very close game with an unfortunate five goal loss.

The girls worked very hard in attack with Gemma McNamara putting up some beautiful shots and Brie Jones working tirelessly for conversions. The mid-court with Zoe McKimmie, Shannen Collins and Izzy Cottrell is a fantastic combination for defence and attack, going hard at the ball and setting up plays. We are short in defence with two players still out with injury, Chloe Land again provided strong defence. Our reserve defence with Ruby- Jean Klippel, Karly McVean and Tayla Pierce worked tirelessly on a tall opposition.

Awards:- Izzy Cottrell, Zoe McKimmie, Gemma McNamara.

Under 15s:- The girls were shivering in the conditions but played well to come away with an impressive win.

Lola Paton and Marlie McLean worked hard against a strong defence and blowing wind to shoot nice goals. Mid players Tilly Paton, Billie Galbraith, Quinn Galbraith, Charlotte Klippel and Taylor Turnbull rotated on and off the bench despite their trembling lips and cold hands, to ensure the ball moved down the court to attack.

Defenders Belle McVean and Ruby Jean Klippel intercepted well with hands on the ball providing opportunity for tur overs.

Awards: Charlotte

Blues' defender Trent Logue flies over Bullioh's Ash Murray to take the grab.

Klippel, Marlie McLean, Quinn Galbraith.

Under 11s:- Our little netballers were very wet and extremely cold but they did not let that bother them, going out and giving it their best.

They still had their loss to Bullioh fresh in their minds, so of course we had to focus on our game and remember what they had been working on - they showed that they are just an amazing little team and showed me their love of the game and super talents every week!

Their smiles were like no other, coming away with a 7-6 win - not a bad score with a heavy ball, wind and rain!

Awards: Canteen (sponsor, Melderg P/I) - Trixie Nugent, Top of Town Takeaway - Olivia Nagy, Players' Player (Grill'd voucher) - Trixie.

Upper Murray Sport

Keeping up to date with the local football and netball

Alongside was Claire Pardon and Cass Hennessy who were a great addition in the mid court, keeping up with the fast pace of Brenda Whitehead and Chrissie McKimmie.

The Bottom Pub award went to Sarah McKay, another of the players that had a double game. The way she moves defensively and intercepts the ball is beautiful to watch. The Pickled Parrot award went to Amy Twigg who also pretty much played two games. I had her play GD for most of C Grade and she fit in so well with Maisie Pilli in the defensive zone - an amazing young player!

Our Best on Court Mug and Sportspower Award went to Sarah Shoard who continues to provide strength and determination in our attacking end, both defensively and offensively.

B Grade:- Unfortunately, we didn't get the result we wanted going down to Tumba by nine.

The girls played a great game, it was neck and neck all game with the girls doing their absolute best in the horrible conditions.

The 'best on' mug this week went to Britt James. After having a week off with injury Britt came out with a point to prove and was our intercept queen and did exactly what was asked of her and played an incredible game.

The Bottom Pub award went to Jess Martin, who is such a great assist to our team and is improving every week. Her pressure on her player and the ball causes many turnovers and helps work the ball down the court smoothly.

The Top of Town Takeaway award went to Jackie Whitehead who, against strong and tall defenders, continues to shoot accurately and give her all, she never drops her head or complains.

A Grade:- It was such a close game but unfortunately we didn't come away with a win, losing by five goals.

We were able to keep level heads despite the conditions and kept the scores even for majority of the game with great defensive pressure and strong passing down the attacking end.

Our 'best on' mug went to Becky who has great defensive skills whether she's in or out of the ring. Her ability to intercept and read play has greatly improved since round one and continues to improve each week.

The Bottom Pub award went to Emma who is another great defender in our team that can come out for those sneaky intercepts. She always comes onto the court with a good attitude and always encourages her teammates.

The Pickled Parrot award went this week went to Chrissie whose feeding into the ring is smart and fast allowing the ball to flow into the shooters smoothly. Her ability to read the play is also a great asset to have down the court.

BLUES NEWS

Football

Seniors:- Another wet day playing against Bullioh, which seems to really suit our game style at the moment.

We came out with a new look team and people playing in different positions to normal.

The midfield was very dominant thanks to the ruck work of Ash Greenhill.

We welcomed back a couple of players to the senior side and they hit the ground running and did all the team things that Josh and I asked of them.

It was a really good team effort and we came away with the four points.

The 'best on' award went to Trent Logue who really just cut everything thing off down back and really set up many scoring opportunities.

Under 9s:- I told the kids to 'google' the word Trojans.... because that's what they were. Everyone of them was a warrior competing in tough freezing conditions.

The teams were split due to low Bullioh numbers and the game was of a high standard with spectators enjoying it albeit from under the cover of the club rooms!

Under 12s:- It was a great win to the team and despite the conditions Cudgie had come to play. The game was of a high standard with players adapting well.

I'm proud to say that some players are getting better every week such as Bentley Webster and Axel Jackson. Best were Rider Pierce, Harry McVean, Tom Turnbull, Jack Turnbull, Mitch McInnes, McKinley Klippel and Connor Wray.

Netball

A Grade:- It was an amazing team effort all the way down the court, from our growing defensive pressure to our strong attacking drives. Kert and Mal worked tirelessly in the ring, forcing many turnovers and a ball to the face!

With Tay away, we were blessed with the versatility of all our midcourt players to fill her role and also brought Bella McKimmie on to show us the ropes. Soph and Rach are fluent in their movement around goals and it's a joy to watch.

Awards: Charlotte Star, Rach Ciccone, Jo Beirs.

B Grade:- The girls fought all day but Bullioh got away in the last quarter winning ny six goals. With a few interrupted weeks we struggled to get our mojo but the determination is still there to come back better against Corryong this week.

DEMONS DEN

Netball 11 & Unders:- What can I say? The girls showed up on such a miserable day and played their little hearts out in the freezing cold weather. Everyone was drenched, the ball was slippery, there was laughter, there were tears! By the third quarter all the girls were frozen.

However, they did such a fantastic job, managing to bring the ball down the court and finding space to secure a three goal win - our highest scoring game of the season.

Awards: Alina Hyatt, Ava Broad, Myla Tight.

Under 15s:- It took a lot of courage for the girls to step on the court in wintery conditions. Yet again they started out strongly, going goal for goal with Tumba in a tight first half. The girls played brilliantly bringing the ball down the court, rebounding well, putting on front plays and gathering intercepts.

The second half was a bit tougher as the hands and fingers were freezing but they held on to the very end. The girls continually show improvement each week and are playing so well together.

Awards: Café Corryong Brew - Miranda Musgrove, Sportspower - Kyella Bailey-Spicer, CUC- Leah Twigg.

D Grade:- While we didn't quite pull away with a win, the girls brought their all against some tough competition and even tougher conditions, with a high temperature of six degrees!

We often speak about loving netball as a winter sport and while I am sure the girls questioned if this was still true, the determination and resilience shown on the court proved otherwise.

Our attackers Allison, Mabel and Amy all had their work cut out for them, coming up against strong defence, rain and wind. Our midcourt provided stability with Claire and Cass controlling pace and control, mentoring young Josie in her first D grade game. Our defenders Renee, Sarah and Raegan worked tirelessly, delaying play and intercepting as often as they could.

A huge thanks to Taylah for her support on the bench in such wild conditions!

Awards: Best on Court Mug and Sportspower - Claire Pardon, Bottom Pub - Allison Watson, Café Corryong Brew - Cass Hennessey.

C Grade:- Well done on an amazing win. It was a seamless game where we just kept getting better and better as we went along, winning 36-15.

We had a bit of a different team this week as most were sick or away, so we had some play almost two games which I was very grateful for.

Little Mabel Edwards, a young Under 15s player who played multiple games, fought through the freezing weather and played her mid-court role fabulously.

Blues sneak home again

Bullioh had a third opportunity this season to break Cudgewa's winning streak but after hitting the lead in the last quarter, the Blues clawed back the margin for a narrow seven-point victory to make it 25 wins in a row.

The Dogs have lost three of their four home and away games to Cudgewa this season by just seven, five and two points with the Blues trailing at three quarter time on each occasion. The round nine clash was a 34 point victory to Cudgewa.

Saturday's match was played in wet and windy conditions and mainly between the arcs as scoring proved difficult.

Bullioh held sway by a goal at the first break but Cudgewa reeled in the margin in the second term for a one point advantage at half time. However, the Dogs then gained the ascendancy and although their gun forward Ash Murray was restricted to one goal by a tight Blues' defence, led by best-on-ground Trent Logue, Kelvin Wallace got off the chain to boot three majors for the visitors.

The Dogs' had established a handy 10 point lead at the last break but the reigning premiers lifted as Ash Greenhill, Jake Hill and Darcy McKimmie gained control at the stoppages to punt the Sherrin into attack where their forwards capitalised to get the Blues over the line by seven points.

Leading goalkicker Guy Telford and Wylie Jackson were dangerous for the Blues and finished with five of their team's eight goal tally, while Bullioh was best served by Lachie Meehan, Lindsey McDonald and Matt Thomas but the Dogs could only muster four points in response.

At Tumbarumba, the Roos flew the gates to amass a 45-point lead at the long break as Dan Hitchens got back in form to finish with five six-pointers alongside ten other goalscorers.

Fletcher Weaven, Jake Burge and Jarrod Woodhall were prominent for the Demons but they had no answers to the Roos' tsunami.

In A Grade netball, top-of-the-table Cudgewa tuned up for finals with a 47-goal rout of Bullioh and Tumbarumba leapfrogged Corryong into second place with a solid five-goal victory over the Dees. Results R11
