Green thumbs came from afar

More than 150 people visited local gardens on the weekend including Tom and Thea Newton's property at Corryong (pictured).

The return of the Corryong Neighbourhood Centre's (CNC) Garden Getabout last weekend was a hit, drawing around 150 visitors to explore nine local gardens.

People came from near and far by car, bike, bus and on foot including visitors from as far as Leighton, along with many locals.

CNC co-ordinator,

Sara Jenkins, praised the event, noting that visitors were particularly interested in learning about the gardens' history, design, plants and the gardening tips shared by the hosts. Several gardens also enjoyed brisk sales of plants and sponge cakes.

"We're really pleased with how everything went," Sara said.

"It was wonderful to see so many people taking an interest in these local gardens."

A special thanks was extended to the gardeners who worked tirelessly to ensure their gardens were in top shape for the event.

"They have done an amazing job, both in preparing their gardens for the weekend and in engaging with visitors," Sara said.

"Their efforts really made this event special."

Organisers Michelle Collins and Thea Newton are already looking to expand the event for next year and invite anyone with a locally cherished garden - whether big or small, old or new - to get in touch about participating.

Funds raised from the event will support the CNC Youth Program.

Opinion:- We must pursue our duty to veterans

The decision to serve your country is a momentous one. Whether in peacetime or in war, our servicemen and servicewomen put the safety, security and prosperity of our nation before their own.

Whether you serve on the frontlines or not, defence service is dangerous. The wounds go far beyond the physical and we now know the significant mental toll our veterans and their families face.

The Royal Commission into Defence and Veteran Suicide is a watershed moment in our nation's history. The stories were harrowing and the release of the final report is a sombre moment for all Australians.

This must be the moment where we say is enough is enough and commit - as a country and as a Parliament - to do better by our veterans and their families, and the wider community.

Recent legislation responding to the first recommendation of the Royal Commission was introduced by the government to fix the veterans entitlement system.

The Royal Commission found this byzantine system is so complex, so convoluted, so prone to delays, that it contributes to the distress and suicidality of veterans. This sentiment is reflected in the many interactions I have with veterans across Indi.

The stories I hear from veterans in Indi are distressing - veterans who feel abandoned within the complex and confusing entitlement system. Veterans who lose access to services because the Department of Veterans Affairs fails to pay invoices on time. In turn, the service providers are put under pressure because of delayed DVA payments.

I support simplifying the system to make it easier and quicker for veterans to receive support and care and to end the secondary trauma for veterans who are forced to prove, often on multiple occasions, that their condition is service related.

This government and all future governments, must respond to the Royal Commission with more action and more funding to help veterans. Doing better by veterans cannot happen in two years' time and not after the next election but now.

In the 2021 Census, more than 5000 people in Indi said they had previously served or were currently serving in our defence forces.

Knowing these deep links to the defence force, when I became the Independent Member for Indi I made a concerted effort to grow my knowledge of what it means to be a serving member of the defence force and the issues facing veterans. This includes taking part in the Defence Force's Parliamentary Program, joining Operation Resolute with Australian Border Force last year.

Throughout my time as the Independent Member for Indi, I have worked closely with our veteran organisations, including the RSLs, through the Tim Fischer AC Veterans and Families Hub in Wodonga, the Gooramab Veterans Retreat, just to name a few.

Our RSLs play a vital role in hosting ceremonies on Anzac Day and Remembrance Day, managing dozens of volunteers, maintaining local cenotaphs and honouring the service of servicemen and women. Remembrance Day pays respect and gratitude to all who have served. On the days that follow, we must pursue our duty to provide veterans with the care and support they deserve.

This week we commenced Stage 7 with the demolition of the kerb and footpath from the Arcade to the Corryong Courthouse Hotel. Please note that parking spaces in front of the hotel will be unavailable for the duration of the works as we complete this stage.

Please be aware that temporary fencing will remain in place around parts of the street and Telstra pits to allow for additional works.

Burn off cleans up park

Crews from the Corryong and Nariel CFA brigades recently spent two weekend days burning off 10 large heaps of vegetation around the steep hillside area near the bike track at the Playles Hill Park.

"It is steep, rocky country and the effort needed to access and work there cannot be understated," said Thea Newton from the Playles Hill Project Group.

"A big thank you goes to the crews who did such a magnificent job."

This is the next step in achieving the aim of the group to remove invasive, woody scrub and weedy growth from the park.

After four years of slow, laborious work to remove vegetation by hand, this year the group was successful in receiving a Tiny Towns grant, enabling the employment of contractors to do the bulk of the difficult work to remove the vegetation from along the roadside and beside the bike path.

"The recent burns have removed much of the vegetation cut back by the contractors," Thea said.

"Over the next few months, work will continue to control regrowth via chemical spraying.

"It is hoped to have the areas ready for replanting with local native shrubs next autumn, winter and spring."

Fire restrictions come into effect

The Fire Danger Period (FDP) will begin this coming Monday, November 18, for a number of municipalities in CFA's North East region including Towong Shire Council.

After a drier-than-average autumn and winter, communities are facing an increased fire risk leading into summer with substantial amounts of dead and dry plant material in forests making it easier for fires to ignite and spread.

District 24 Assistant Chief Fire Officer, Brett Myers, said "There is a great deal of fuel out there and we're predicting a summer of grassfires.

"We're asking people to keep an eye out on the VicEmergency App and CFA website, to be aware of the fire danger ratings and to know what their plan is should a fire event arise.

"If you can take the time to finalise preparing your properties, we strongly suggest you do so, whether that is reducing vegetation around your property or clearing your gutters."

CFA's 52,000 members are poised to respond and support communities this bushfire season and they're urging people to use common sense and take responsibility for preventing fires.

For more information contact CFA Media on 1300 CFA MEDIA (24 hours) or cfamedia@cfa.vic.gov.au.

Those conducting burn-offs must notify authorities online at the Fire Permits Victoria website (www.firepermits.vic.gov.au), or by calling Triple Zero Victoria on 1800 668 511.

"By registering your burn-off online, you allow emergency call takers to allocate more of their time taking calls from people who need emergency assistance immediately," Mr Myers said.

"No burning off is permitted during the FDP without a permit which can be applied for through the Fire Permits Victoria website.

"There are very strict conditions attached to these permits and the liability sits with the permit holder to ensure they always act safely."

Towong Bridge temporary closure November 2024

Transport for NSW will carry out road sealing work on Towong Bridge in November to provide a safer and smoother crossing over the Murray River.

A final seal will be applied to the concrete bridge deck and will provide a stronger and more resilient road surface for motorists.

We'll be working at Towong Road on the NSW side of the Murray River near Towong Bridge camping reserve from Friday 22 November to Saturday 23 November 2024, weather permitting. Work will be carried out between 8.30am on Friday and 2pm on Saturday.

The bridge will be closed across the two days and will re-open from 2pm on Saturday 23 November, weather permitting. The shared pathway will also be closed for the safety of workers and the community.

The campground on the NSW side of the bridge will remain open but is only accessible from Towong Road on the NSW side of the river.

Detours will be in place with motorists advised to cross the Murray River via Bringenbrong Bridge to the south or Tintalra Bridge to the north, adding about 20 minutes to journeys.

New trail to unlock health benefits

Corryong Health is seeking input from the community on design ideas for a Nature Wellness Trail at Playles Hill Park.

With the support from the team at NatureFix, the Nature Wellness Trail is an exciting new initiative designed to unlock the health benefits of nature through short, self-guided experiences.

Tailored to address community needs, the trail will provide an easy and accessible way for both locals and visitors to relax, reduce stress and find a sense of calm in the naturally stunning beauty of Corryong and its surrounds.

A meeting will be held on Tuesday November 26th at the Hilltop Building at 7pm to discuss the proposal and give the community the opportunity to provide input.

As a valuable community health resource, the trail will feature a series of restoration stations - or mental health "pause points" - strategically placed throughout the park. These stations will be designed to encourage people to slow down, take a moment to reflect, and connect with nature.

The goal is to leave visitors feeling more relaxed, more aware and more connected to both the natural landscape and community.

The Nature Wellness Trail would build on the work already being achieved in the park and complement the recently opened Labyrinth.

To learn more about NatureFix and their wellness trail program visit <https://www.naturefix.life/trails-and-zones>.

The trail would also complement the Snowy Valleys Snowy Wellness Drive which extends from Adelong and Tumut to the southern parts of the council area via Tumbarumba and the Southern Cloud Lookout at Tooma and ending in Khancoban.

A wellness trail will complement the newly opened labyrinth.

Sale draws a top draft

Local producers are offering quality cattle at the upcoming sale.

As the Upper Murray Christmas Cattle Sale approaches on December 6th, excitement is building in the Corryong community and beyond.

Held at the Corryong Municipal Saleyards and accessible online via Auction Plus, this annual sale conducted by Costello Rural has established a reputation for featuring high-quality, locally bred, grass-fed cattle that are yard-weaned and immune-ready prepared - ensuring excellent health and productivity.

This year, the sale proudly highlights local lines from well-respected local farms including:-

- 'Baringa', Towong: 150 Angus steers and 70 heifers with Merridale bloodlines
- 'Wabba House', Tintaldra: 140 Angus steers and 70 heifers with Raff bloodlines
- 'Nariel Pines', Nariel:

80 Angus steers and 40 heifers with Merridale bloodlines

"At a time when buyers are increasingly seeking resilient and healthy livestock, this sale emphasises quality animals that have thrived on Upper Murray pastures," said Costello Rural principal, Justin Costello.

"Each line reflects the dedication and care of our local farmers, whose names are well-known throughout the region for their commitment to sustainable and responsible farming practices.

"In addition to being an excellent opportunity for buyers, the Christmas sale is also an ideal event for local producers to consider listing their cattle. Joining the sale connects sellers with a wide network of buyers across Australia, both in-person and online, fostering a broader market reach while supporting the local economy.

"We encourage farmers who may be interested in listing their cattle in this year's sale to reach out.

"With the support of our team at Costello Rural, every step of the process is managed with professionalism and a deep respect for the hard work that goes into raising quality cattle.

"The community's strength lies in our shared commitment to excellence in agriculture.

"By supporting local sales like this, we're ensuring a bright future for the local farming industry and strengthening the bonds that make the Upper Murray a unique and thriving place," Justin added.

For more information on how to participate contact Justin Costello on 0419 007 925.

HAVE YOUR SAY

The State Government will hold an inquiry into Ambulance Victoria after the Coalition won the vote in the Upper House.

You know the stories - the ill and injured waiting hours for an ambulance or stuck in the back of an ambulance in a hospital carpark. You may have experienced it firsthand, I have.

The inquiry is calling for submissions. Scan the QR and help fix this mess.

Upper Murray Sport

The weekend pennant team had a good win away over Lavington with two rink wins and a draw. This puts them on top of the ladder.
 The midweek team's results are not so good, although the side has been playing well. We lost our last two matches, against North Albury and Howlong, both of those teams being almost all men. It's hard to understand how the women in those clubs are not getting a fair go!
 Four ladies went to Holbrook last week for their annual Pairs two-day tournament.
 Carol and Tracey Fair won the 4th place prize and Cath Ross and Cheryl Smedley won the prize for best 1st round win. It was a great tournament, spoiled a little on Friday by the very windy conditions.
 Things are going well on club days - continue coming along and making them good days.
