Recruits bolster firefighting force

Forest Fire Management Victoria's (FFMVic) newest recruits have been learning the ropes at a week-long training camp at Yackandandah in readiness for the summer bushfire season.

The training ensures project firefighters are ready to fight fires and complete work to help reduce bushfire risk.

This summer, FFMVic has employed 540 project firefighters to work alongside our experienced permanent crews to keep Victorians and the environment safe.

Within Hume Region 114 project firefighters will be based at depots at Corryong, Tallangatta, Alexandra, Marysville, Toolangi, Broadford, Kinglake, Benalla, Mansfield, Nathalia, Shepparton, Beechworth, Bright, Ovens and Mitta Valley.

Recruits undergo two weeks of classroom and field-based learning on topics including fire behaviour, safety and survival techniques, fire suppression, working with aircraft and planned burning.

The training camp provides opportunities for hands-on learning, from operating water pumps and chainsaws, to driving specialised fire fighting vehicles.

In addition to emergency response, project firefighters also undertake mowing, slashing and spraying; maintaining fuel breaks and the public land road network; and trail and recreation site maintenance and planned burning.

December ON HANSON

The Festive Season is coming to Hanson Street in December!

SHOP & WIN

Head into the heart of Corryong through December and shop to have the chance to win one of five $100 gift vouchers (to five different cafes/stores) with an entry for every purchase over $50.

GET INVOLVED

- Come and see the displays on Hanson Street alongside life-size cut-outs of Upper Murray characters of all ages! Who will you know?
- Upper Murray Youth will complete the decorations with hand-made festive bunting.

Full details for the Shop & Win campaign and December festivities available at: towong.vic.gov.au/december-on-hanson

Time to get on your bike

A local cycling group is encouraging the community to discover the joys of bike riding and is extending an open invitation to all residents and visitors to a 'Come & Try Fundraiser Day'.

Lifecycle Upper Murray president, Mick Butler, owner of Hobie's Sports Store is donating the use of e-bikes for people to try out for a gold coin donation. Proceeds will go to further promotion of cycling in the region.

"We would like to thank our other sponsors of the day - Integral Embroidery and BankWAW," Mr Butler said.

"Their support means our costs are kept to a minimum and our financial stability strengthens."

The 'Come & Try Day' will be held on Sunday 8th December at the Corryong Recreation Reserve from 10am-1pm.

A barbecue is being cooked by the committee members and volunteers and cold drinks and fruit kebab sticks will also be available for purchase.

"The committee for the 2024/25 season is determined to ensure the financial sustainability of the club and we are continuing to work towards advocating for our Mt Mittamatite masterplan," Mr Butler added.

"We believe a gravel track from Corryong linking Cudgewa, Tintaldra and Towong is the perfect way to get tourists and locals enjoying our beautiful countryside and spending money in the Upper Murray."

If you would like the full details of the plan email admin@lifecycleuppermurray.com.au for a copy.

Follow Lifecycle Upper Murray on Facebook to stay up to date on events (including riding regularly on the weekends and catching up for a cuppa afterwards).

If you'd like to be involved, memberships are available for just $20 which gives you free access to our bike trailer on organised rides, a free cap (to new members) and the camaraderie of being part of the cycling group.

"We are a welcoming group of all ages and abilities," Mr Butler said.

Students go wild for nature

Mia Bettio shows students how to use the new technology.

Students at the Walwa and Talgarno Primary Schools are taking part in an innovative creative writing program.

Parallel Wilds is an immersive a cutting-edge 3D creative writing platform for youth, empowering self-identity in the natural world and a speculative universe on the future of species and wilderness, set in the year 2050.

Featuring mind mapping and creative writing on the future of native species, the program engages youth using a 360 degree camera and six-foot tripod and sound recording, digital photography and design technology.

The school teams work with Parallel Wilds creative director Craig Dent and Justin Dallinger from Oakley 3D Studios.

Another of Parallel Wilds' mentors is former Walwa Primary student, Mia Bettio, who has completed a masters in environmental science at Charles Sturt University.

She was working with current students last week on writing a story about the platypus. The students are currently researching for the story which includes a 3D walk-through of the school, using Virtual Reality headsets and playing the 3D Gamify where they save endangered species.

"The program has been a big hit with the schools," Craig Dent said.

"Our thanks go to Towong Shire Council and FREEZA for giving us the opportunity to work in these magical schools."

Corryong Podiatry – Local Comprehensive Footcare

A new podiatrist will be opening its doors on Monday 2nd December, 2024 in Corryong, filling the current absence of local podiatry services in the Upper Murray.

'Corryong Podiatry' has been opened by Dominic Sandilands (right) who is known to the Upper Murray as a former CEO of Corryong Health.

Dominic says he has "returned to clinical practice to fill the much-needed gap in local podiatry services." He says that "podiatry is very important in maintaining overall health, particularly relating to chronic disease management (including diabetes), maintaining mobility and aging".

Corryong has twice the population rate aged over 60 when compared with the Victorian state average, making podiatry an essential service for our community.

Dominic explained that "there are many common foot conditions affecting children, adults and older people that can be effectively treated clinically by a podiatrist and which will reduce pain and improve or return function back to the feet and legs."

Dominic graduated as a Podiatrist from the University of Western Sydney in 2001 and has more than a decade of clinical experience working across all aspects of Podiatry practice with special interests in Diabetes and Sports Medicine.

Corryong Podiatry will be operating out of the old Bendigo Bank building located next to Black Sheep at Shop 2/ 59-61 Hanson S., Corryong and will open 9am-5pm on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday (closed Tuesday).

All forms of footcare will be offered including treating ingrown toenails, corns/ calluses & warts, sports injuries, diabetes, knee/ ankle & arch pain, children's feet, orthotics and aged care.

Referrals will be accepted from General Practice Medicare Chronic Disease Care Plans and Department of Veteran Affairs - however no referral is required to attend. Corryong Podiatry will also be able to process Private Health Insurance claims on site.

Appointments can be made either online using the QR code, online at www.corryongpodiatry.com.au or by calling 0428 984 098.

✂ Letters to the editor:-

The ongoing presence of toxic blue-green algae is devastating the ecosystem.

Community health crisis demands action

As a Tooma resident and farmer along Mannus Creek, I'm writing to inform the local community about a serious issue that affects us all - the toxic blue-green algae in Mannus Dam and its downstream waterways.

This is not just an environmental problem - it's a public health crisis that threatens the wellbeing of everyone who relies on or lives near this water source.

My family's story highlights the urgency of this situation. Our farm is surrounded by the creek and for years, we have worked alongside its waters. But over time, we noticed a troubling pattern - with Red Alerts issued, our health deteriorated.

The escalation of illnesses in my family has been devastating. My daughter has developed Chronic Inflammatory Response Syndrome (CIRS) and Harmful Algal Bloom Syndrome (HABS). These conditions are life-altering. HABS, in particular, is associated with neurotoxins that can cause severe neurological damage, often with lifelong consequences.

For my family, the effects on all members became so unbearable that we had to relocate, leaving behind the home and farm we loved, simply to protect our health.

The problem began after Mannus Dam was constructed. Before that, the water flowed naturally and was safe to drink, swim in and enjoy. Since the dam was built, harmful algae blooms have become a persistent issue and blue-green algae monitoring - which began in 2017 - has confirmed the water's toxicity. This year alone, the creek has been under Red Alert for toxic algae every week except two.

Mannus Dam was originally promoted as a recreational site but how can we enjoy fishing or swimming in a dam that is constantly unsafe? It's time to face the reality - the dam in its current state is harming, not helping, our community.

But Mannus Creek is more than just a water source, it is an ecological treasure. It is home to the only population of the endangered Macquarie Perch in the NSW Murray region, as well as platypus that were once abundant in its waters. Now, both are disappearing. If the creek is sick, so too are the animals that depend on it. The ongoing presence of toxic blue-green algae is devastating the creek's ecosystem, threatening the survival of these iconic creatures.

At the Snowy Valleys Council meeting on November 21, 2024

John Williams spoke passionately on behalf of us all, proposing that the dam be restored to its natural state as wetlands. This would allow the water to flow freely again, reducing the conditions that fuel toxic algae blooms and revitalising the ecosystem.

I remember a time when the creek was a source of life, a place where we could drink, picnic, swim our horses and connect with nature. Now, it's a danger we can't ignore. My kids know nothing of the life I once enjoyed along the creek because I constantly must refer to it as poison.

To make meaningful change, we need the community's support. We are forming a support group to advocate for the restoration of Mannus Creek and to protect the health of our community and its ecosystem. If you are interested in seeing a change and helping to make this vision a reality, please contact Amy Paton at coonarapastoralco@gmail.com

Let's not wait for more families or our environment to suffer. Together, we can push for a sustainable solution that protects our water, our health and our future.

The time to act is now. Sarah McColl, Passionate farmer, working together with Leigh McColl in Tooma.

Bumper cod season opens this weekend

Some of Victoria's most popular inland fishing spots will be drawcards for anglers this weekend when the annual Murray cod fishing season opens on Sunday.

Cod opening is Christmas come early for many freshwater fishers and follows the annual three-month closed season – applicable to most waters north of the Great Dividing Range – which gives the iconic native species a chance to breed in peace.

Victorian Fisheries Authority CEO, Travis Dowling, said while large impoundments such as Lake Eildon, Rocklands Reservoir and Lake Eppalock are now open year-round, summer presents terrific fishing opportunities in rivers, creeks and smaller lakes.

"Cod opening weekend means people flocking to productive waters now that the big breeding fish have had time to lay eggs and rest on the nest," he said.

"These waters are go-to spots for families, with riverfront camping spots at a premium, caravan parks packed, people eating at local pubs and cafes, filling up and buying bait at service stations and enjoying all that regional Victoria has to offer.

Size limits apply during cod season.

"We've stocked more fish than all other Australian states and territories combined including more than three million Murray cod each year thanks to the Victorian government's Go Fishing and Boating Plan, to make sure events like cod opening are circled in people's calendars."

Mr Dowling said Murray cod could be caught on relatively simple gear and were often found among woody habitat such as submerged logs and fallen trees.

"Cod are readily caught on lures like StumpJumpers and spinnerbaits, cast from a boat or the shore," he said.

"Alternatively, bait fishers enjoy success using yabbies, bardi grubs, worms or just a bit of cheese or chicken.

"Persistence and patience are the keys to success when chasing Murray cod, whatever method of fishing you choose to tempt them.

"Our Fisheries Officers will be out across northern Victoria helping people care for their catch with the right handling techniques and ensuring anglers let fish go that are outside the 55 to 75cm slot limit."

More information on bag and size limits can be found at www.vfa.vic.gov.au/murraycod

Dedicated crew ensures ship runs smoothly

The president of the Corryong Show committee reported to the recent annual general meeting that an enthusiastic band of helpers and improvements to the show site have ensured the future of a great community event.

"We have ticked the boxes with what we had aimed and hoped to achieve with our Spring Show," Evan Nicholas said, "with great attendance from our community and also from afar."

"We have also catered for all ages and made our show affordable for all."

"This young and enthusiastic committee has grasped the importance of an agricultural show with strong numbers attending the monthly meetings and all members buying in to support one another to hopefully in time, lighten the load off Serena Klippel, Emma Klippel and others.

"I'd like personally thank Serena and Emma for another outstanding year of many hours put towards this day. We even survived a few months without Em but obviously phone service across Australia must be improving all the time!"

"The executive committee runs a pretty smooth sailing ship and get done what needs to be done without question every month. All the helpers who do shifts on the bar, gate etc and all those that assist in some way either during setup or pack up every little bit of help goes a long way and is definitely noticed.

"This year, in some ways, all the past years hard work has started to pay off. Little things like the show day online program, all committee members having Corryong show shirts, the end of a few years of grants (which has been very tiring for certain people) but also enabled us to build our shed and have all our necessary equipment all on site at the rec reserve, plus upgraded power around the grounds.

"These improvements have made show day run smoothly."

"As has the smooth transition of judging the pavilion on the Friday. This not only takes some pressure off the Saturday but also allows the judges and stewards to relax and enjoy their day a little more."

"Sometimes we have to look back and see not only have we achieved a great community event but we have also made things better for the future"

"One thing that is extremely pleasing is the goodwill between community organisations."

"There's always plenty of in-kind support from the Towong Council but also the Man from Snowy River Bush Festival allows us to borrow pretty much whatever we need from their coup. This makes the setup so much easier."

"We also used the machinery club's speaker system which did an amazing job and something we are very grateful for. We can't thank you all enough."

"Our show is sponsored very well by many local businesses throughout our community. This allows us to provide plenty of free entertainment and great value for your hard-earned dollars. We thank you all."

The committee was re-elected at the annual meeting and comprises:- President - Evan Nicholas, Vice President - Serena Klippel, Treasurer - Laura Hogg and Secretaries Emma Klippel and Shea Bloom.

A sing-along for the ages

Greg Gould puts on a rollicking show.

If you like music from the 1960s, 70s, 80s and 90s delivered by three of the most exciting voices in Australia set aside Saturday December 7th for the biggest end of year party at the Corryong Memorial Hall.

The 'ultimate party jukebox' show will entertain you with all your favourites and features singers Greg Gould, Ezra Williams and Jessica, backed by Greg's amazing band featuring four of Melbourne's finest musicians.

If you haven't been to a 'GG' stage spectacular you are absolutely in for a treat. Australia's Got Talent star, Greg Gould, has performed several times in Corryong, fallen in love with the place and people and can't wait to come back.

Greg's recent original album debuted on the ARIA Aus Album charts at #4 as his star continues to rise - a powerhouse performer and vocalist!

Singing diva, Ezra Williams, is no stranger to stages across the world. A grand finalist on The Voice 2023, her powerhouse vocals and charismatic stage presence have fostered a genuine connection with viewers and audiences alike. Big vocals, big personality, a big talent.

Jessica McPherson Riley draws her influences from R'n'B, jazz and old school soul and funk. Her voice is both soulful and powerful and she has a unique tone that is guaranteed to surprise you. She is a renowned artist known for her vocal prowess and fabulous stage persona. The show starts at 8pm (doors open 7pm). Bring your nibbles (platters can be arranged. No BYO drinks.

Group bookings available. Book online at <https://tinyurl.com/UpperMurrayXmas> or scan the QR code in the advertisement on page 2.

Treatment plant gets an upgrade

The Khancoban Wastewater Treatment Plant is set to be replaced with a modern facility ensuring the future safeguarding of public health for the local community.
 Snowy Valleys Council (SVC) will replace the town's aging treatment plant with a state-of-the-art facility that will ensure the facility meets current best practice standards in terms of environmental protection.
 Originally built in 1965 as part of the Snowy Hydro Scheme, council took over management of the facility in 1993.
 "The new facility will ensure council continues to deliver high-quality wastewater services to the community through improved system reliability, effluent quality and environmental improvements," said Interim General Manager, Steven Pinnuck.
 The multi-million-dollar project will involve developing a concept and detailed designs, conducting an environmental assessment and constructing a new modern WWTP to current health and safety standards.
 Council has recently publicly tendered for specialist consultancy services to prepare designs with a report scheduled for the December 2024 Ordinary Council Meeting.

Singles get underway

Bowlers take to the rink on Sunday in quest of the singles championship.

It was an earlier start on Sunday with members rolling up at 10am for the Corryong Club's Men's Singles Championship.

The luck of the draw saw several games fought out to the very end, while others were not quite so.

The day provided perfect conditions for the following results:-

The men's B4 pennant side travelled to Tallangatta on Saturday to face a determined opposition - last year's finals opponent.

Simon Donadon's team once again led from the front winning 31-8. Peter Mongan's team got off to a good start but the locals, on a slowing pitch and in the very warm conditions, reeled them in to be even at the second last end; falling by one at the last, 17-8. Noel Blake's team were behind all day but fought back to be within grasp of a draw on the last end. However, with Tallangatta's final bowl the jack was moved back giving the home side a six-shot victory 11-17. An overall 12 points gained leaves Corryong well placed at the top of the

This Saturday Corryong will be at home to second-placed Commercial Club.

TEE TO GREEN

Foursomes titles decided

Due to constrictions in the program due to pennant dates, both the Women's Foursomes and Mixed Foursomes were held over the weekend.

Full goes credit goes to the ladies who backed up on the Sunday!

On Saturday, the pairing of Cheryl Smedley and Ros Sheather were victorious in the Women's Foursomes and Cheryl made it a double the next day when she partnered Lance Noonan in the Mixed Foursomes with a comfortable five-shot win over defending champions Rae Milbank and Chris McInnes.

The winners of the daily competition on handicap were Belinda and Travis Attree.

A reminder that the

Lance Noonan and Cheryl Smedley won the mixed foursomes title.

Another good field of twelve competed in R5 of the Summer Cup and it was Tony Jarvis who took a liking to the resanded greens, carding a huge 23 points for his first win of the season. Three back was Lance Noonan, with Bill Bond third on 19 and he found the sand on the last, sinking a long birdie putt. NTP however went to Darren Land who also birdied with a much shorter putt.

R6 will tee off at 9am this Saturday, while on Sunday the pennant team takes on Adelong on the synthetic greens in Corryong.

Allicin + Sulphur Blocks

Naturally repels flies & ticks on livestock while providing essential nutrients.

Olsson's Allicin + Sulphur helps reduce fly, tick and lice burden. It also provides sulphur & nutrients to encourage optimal microbial growth & ammonia balance.

Allicin + Sulphur provides an effective, natural and ongoing solution to fly, tick and lice burden. In trials, our formulation has reduced the burden to less than 100 flies per animal (the threshold to drench). For cattle, sheep, horses & goats. Patent pending.
