COOOOEEEE!

HAVE YOU HEARD THE NEWS?! THIS YEAR'S FESTIVAL IS SET TO BE BIGGER THAN EVER!

APRIL 13th - 16th 2023 - Corryong

We have sensed the enthusiasm by many locals surrounding the new changes made to this year's Man From Snowy River Bush festival.

While we have had much support from volunteers committees and staff in the lead up to the festival, this year has also focused on welcoming back locals to join us celebrating our Australian Bush heritage, which will include Sunday being 'FREE' for all locals.

We have also welcomed our new General Manager – Melissa Rice, who has led the team to incorporate exciting new features to the program and all-round happenings at the festival.

With the success of last years Ag Field Day, we are bringing it back to you this year and set to kick off at 9am Wednesday 12th at the Old Primary School grounds. We would love to see more locals join us this year and hoping the weather hold for us.

The bush festival plays a vital role in the Upper Murray Community and it is greatly appreciated that it is recognised as such by government and supporting bodies. The festival board and staff express their deep appreciation to the sponsors, patrons, volunteers, competitors and landowners. Without their contribution this festival would not exist.

Enjoy your time at the festival!

A big welcome

We have managed to overcome several turbulent years to be genuinely excited with what we have in front of us in delivering the 2023 festival.

Our strong culture and financial position is a testament to our focus on best practices, vertical integration and ability to control our destiny through smart investment and governance.

I was once told in business to “never forget where you come from”. With that in mind we have this year focused on the Stockman’s Challenge.

The Challenge is where it all began many years ago. Whilst we have progressed to be the largest and most successful event of its type in Australia, we saw the need for change.

Recently the sport of Stockman’s Challenge has been met with very limited entries and for a myriad of reasons cancellations of some events. Once we reviewed the climate we knew we had to be bold and make the change.

We look forward to this year’s new format of preliminary events. We have naming rights sponsors across all preliminary and divisional events including finals - along with the largest purse ever seen in Stockman’s Challenge events!

I would like to thank our Challenge Committee, full of new and returning contributors and supporters for their tireless work in seeing the need for change and seeking support from the board to make it happen.

We are pleased to welcome back the Upper Murray Agricultural Field Days running in conjunction with the festival. This is not only exciting for our region but also local and regional suppliers of equipment and services.

It’s a great community event that we will look to grow in the coming years with endless possibilities to its final makeup and destination as a standalone event.

To our amazing sponsors, we simply would not be here without you. Your continued support is greatly appreciated and know this event and your exposure for being a part of it will continue to grow year on year.

We of course must make special mention

Changes have been made to the festival format to keep it relevant.

to RM Williams, our naming rights sponsor. It is exciting to see them go from strength to strength back in Australian ownership and we are genuinely excited with what the future holds collectively for both of our organisations.

So the 2023 festival is upon us!

It does not happen without all of our volunteers, staff, board and committee members to put together this world class event. I would like to sincerely thank them all for their tireless work and dedication to this fantastic event.

On behalf of the board and staff of the Man from Snowy River Bush Festival - welcome to our 2023 event.

We once again look forward to delivering you another incredible festival. Our focus has always been the celebration of our Australian Bush Heritage that can well be forgotten in these times of political correctness and cancel culture.

We see a unique link through our connections with RM Williams, this great festival and Banjo Paterson. Put simply ‘One Piece of Leather, One Event, One Poem - Uniquely Australian’.

Celebrating everything that is Australia, Our Heritage and Your Heritage - High Country!

Festival preserves our heritage

While recovering from the effects of the 2019-2020 Black Summer bushfires and the pandemic, Corryong has been able to host a successful Man From Snowy Bush Festival for the past two years and the 2023 event promises to be better than ever!

The bush festival proudly celebrates our Aussie bush heritage for four days in the heart of the high country and the showcase event this year will be the 28th running of the MFSR Challenge.

The entertainment features musical acts on the live stage, headlined by Sara Storer, Travis Collins, The Pigs, Jayne Denham and Paul Costa and extends to a fraternity of highly talented bush poets, artists and photographers through to the dust busting action of the rodeo on offer.

This year's festival will mark 28 years since its inception in its current format.

The iconic Man From Snowy River Challenge will once again be the main attraction, where 70 of the country's highest calibre of riders come together to compete for the ultimate accolade.

The Challenge this year has had a massive freshen up, with some events coming together or having a makeover and another event being added to the mix.

To top it off the prize money has never looked better with the Open winner taking home $30,000 and the Ladies winner taking home $7,500.

"Our competitors entries have been amazing with some top names making the trip to Corryong, the title could be anyone's," said Challenge Co-ordinator, Jasmine Pierce.

"We also have some new feature events in the arena with a Friday night Feature Cutout to set the pass and our Saturday night rodeo is going to bring the energy with Xtreme Broncs taking over the reins."

"Thirty of Australia's best cowboys and wildest bucking horses will be matched up against each other to bring the electricity to the main arena."

In the Challenge, local horseman, John Mitchell, is shooting for four titles after a hat trick from 2016-18 and is likely to have keen competition from his brother and former two-time champion, David.

Former junior challenge winner, Travis Bandy, will be out to emulate his father Scott who is a four-time winner of the event.

Reigning champion, Morgan Webb will be defending his title in his quest for a third consecutive challenge title to add to his 2009 win.

The women's division will be wide open with eight-time champion, Emma O'Shea, not competing this year.

The festival also pays homage to 'Banjo' Paterson's Man From Snowy River poem in a live re-enactment, with crowds watching 'in very fear' as mountain horsemen take on the steep and winding mountains in pursuit of 'the colt that got away'.

The festival will also feature a ute muster, kids party, street parade, bush markets, Aussie bush idol, bushman's whip crack competition and working cattle dog championships.

"The authentic nature of our festival, the spectacular scenery, the variety and high calibre of competition, entertainment and friendly locals are the fundamentals that bring thousands of wanderers to Corryong," said festival co-ordinator, Melissa Rice.

"To make sure you don't miss out on anything, purchase an official souvenir program."

The Challenge

Preliminary Events

1. Welaregang Station Packhorse:- Based on an Australian tradition of packing through the mountains, competitors pack their horses and navigate an obstacle course resembling bush terrain. Open competitors are required to shoe and pack their horse securely before navigating the course, then returning to unpack.

2. Ag Warehouse Bareback:- Competitors complete a course riding bareback within a set time demonstrating maximum skill, control and manoeuvrability of their horse before showcasing a 60 second freestyle.

3. Jimmy Scammell Horseshoeing:-

Competitors prepare and shoe one foot of their nominated horse demonstrating their ability, to maintain the horse's welfare if they were to lose a shoe(s) when travelling across bush terrain - ensuring their steed could complete the journey sure footed.

4. Cydectin Platinum Stockhandling:-

Riders on horseback 'cut out' one beast from the mob of cattle in the yard or the 'camp' and block and turn the beast at least two or three times to prove to the judge that they have the beast under control; then take it out of the yard and through a course around pegs involving right and left hand turns in a figure eight before guiding it through two pegs known as 'the gate'.

5. 4Cyte Cattleman's Crack:- A combination event of two classic events- the whip crack and cross country. Competitors navigate a bush style obstacle course that will have whip crack targets throughout combined with cross country jumps. There is a set time to complete the course demonstrating horsemanship at the highest standard.

6. Corcoran Parker Stockmen's Cut Out:- Competitors work a released cow in a series of sections; a boxing section, 'cutting the cow' once the rider thinks it is ready; then they proceed into the next section, which is blocking the beast down the fence and then on to maneuver the beast into a figure of eight pattern to complete their run.

Young guns show skills

It's not only the adults who get a crack at competing in one of the most prestigious challenge competitions in the country, - the kids also get a run!

Featured on the Sunday in the main arena will be the running of the Striplings Challenge where riders aged between 10 and 14 years will compete in a 'mini challenge' that includes elements of all the preliminary events of the Open Challenge.

"We are very excited to be continuing an event that encourages the younger generations both to be actively involved in their community and one that requires them to learn specialised horsemanship skills," said events co-ordinator, Maureen Thomas.

They can crack whips, shoe horses, catch brumbies and ride like The Man From Snowy River - and they assemble in Corryong every autumn to battle for the title as the best stockman or woman in the country.

Challenge competitors will take part in demanding tests of skill including a vet and gear check, stock handling, packhorse, bareback obstacle riding, horseshoeing and cross country riding.

Only the top ten competitors will take part in the daring final events - brumby catching (pictured) and stocksaddle buckjumping.

These will determine who will leave Corryong with the prestigious Modern Man from Snowy River title. There is also a Junior and Ladies section as well as a Striplings Challenge.

Festival focuses on horses

As well as the prestigious Man From Snowy River Challenge, the festival will feature other events that showcase the Australian stockhorse.

Tom Curtain

Tom is an award-winning singer songwriter, horseman, entrepreneur and family man, living and working in outback Australia.

To celebrate the release of his chart-topping fifth album, 'Nothin's Gonna Stop Us', Tom (pictured) is touring the country with his horses, working dogs and young family.

His successful music career includes prestigious Golden Guitar awards. Tom owns the national award-winning tourist attraction, Katherine Outback Experience in the Northern Territory, which celebrates life on the land through real horse training and working dog demonstrations.

Tom is an official ambassador of Dolly's Dream and uses his tours to raise awareness about bullying and the need to speak up and be kind.

When not performing, in Campdrafts and Challenges with his family.

Tom was the awarded 2022 ABCRA WA Zone Rider of the Year.

Catch Tom at the following times:

Richard Webb Cutting

Richard is a passionate horse trainer with many, many years of experience under his belt. He runs clinics teaching horsemanship, helping participants get the best out of their horse and themselves.

Richard will be running demonstrations at the festival this year, showing the incredible power of a rider and their horse to control and manage cattle.

Watching these demonstrations is almost like witnessing a dance between horse and beast, an incredible feat of agility and composure.

Richard will also be judging the Corcoran Parker Stockmen's Cut Out and the Wild Horse Catch, bringing his decades of experience along with his passion for the industry, looking for the very best in this year's competitors.

You can see Richard in action at the following times:-

Thursday
1.30pm-4pm Rodeo Arena

Friday
12 noon - 1pm Rodeo Arena

Open Campdraft

This event showcases Australian horses and riders.

Affiliated and run under Southern Campdraft Association Rules, campdrafting is Australia's fastest growing recognised sport.

From an historical perspective, campdrafting is Australia's own true horse discipline and was born on the plains of Queensland, Northern Territory and New South Wales more than 100 years ago.

Campdrafting is very much a family and community focussed horse sport.

The ability of the horses, combined with the skilled horsemanship, makes campdrafting a sport for both the competitor and the spectator alike.

The event will be on Sunday from 7am to 10am in the Campdraft Arena.

Relive 'The Man's' Ride

The Man From Snowy River Bush Festival is proud to again present the stirring re-enactment of Banjo Paterson's iconic poem at Thowgla on Friday at 10am (follow the signs from the western end of town).

The re-enactment of Banjo's famous poem 'The Man From Snowy River', is located in the Thowgla Valley with the mountains as the backdrop and the stage is set for an event not to be missed.

The re-enactment pays tribute to the men, women and horses of the past.

Bring your chair, sit back, relax and enjoy the pre-performance entertainment as the early settlers set up camp in their summer mountain hut.

Gates open at 7.30am and a shuttle bus is available.

Entertainment will be provided by Pete Denahy, Emmiliqua East, Tom Curtain, Geoffrey Graham and the Timberhills Bullock Team.

At 11am the Riley's Ride® group is welcomed, as the horsemen and women arrive from their epic journey.

The ride traces the last journey of legendary Upper Murray stockman, Jack Riley, who reportedly met Banjo Paterson in 1890 and is locally regarded as the inspiration for his famous ballad.

It is held to commemorate Jack Riley's life and the part he played in the early days of this district and also to laud the efforts of those who selflessly sought to rescue him under harsh conditions.

After their arrival, the iconic poem then comes to life with an exceptional display of mountain horsemanship with the show beginning around 11.30am.

Jack Riley is buried at Corryong Cemetery and a granite headstone has been erected in his memory.

In 1995 the Upper Murray celebrated the centenary of the publication of Paterson's 'The Man from Snowy River and Other Verses' with a festival which has developed into an international event.

The final journey

More than 40 riders have rolled their swags and saddled up and are currently making their way from Tom Groggin Station, through the spectacular scenery of the Snowy Mountains and down to Corryong in time for the 2023 Bush Festival.

Known as 'Riley's Ride' the event is an essential element of the bush festival.

It traces the last journey of legendary Upper Murray stockman, Jack Riley.

Instigated in 1989, the ride offers spectacular views and the chance to meet people from far and wide, many which hail from different walks of life but share a love of the Australian bush and horses as well as deep respect for the pioneering families of the area.

It is a challenging ride and a character building experience, so congratulations go to the riders and organisers for another fantastic year.

Over the four day trek riders travel on average about 30kms a day and spend between five and eight hours in the saddle each day.

To book a place on the 2024 ride you can enrol at this year's Man From Snowy River Bush Festival. Bookings and a deposit will be taken on the Sunday morning of the event - contact the Festival Office.

There's plenty to do

There are a host of showcase events at this year's festival to cater for all tastes.

The Timberhills Bullock Team is a piece of living history and third generation driver, Ron McKinnon, still uses his bullocks in his forestry work, snagging logs out of the bush where they are often better than logging equipment and leaving minimal impact on the environment.

The Ol' Foz Dog Jump on Saturday is areal crowd pleaser.

Ol' Foz was a dingo cross cattle dog from Tom Groggin Station and an amazing character renowned for his jumping ability. A fun event for everyone and all sizes of dogs are welcome to compete for great prizes.

The Jack Riley Commemoration is attended by Riley's Riders

after the completion of their five-day journey at the Corryong Cemetery to pay tribute at Jack's final resting place. The riders will then proceed to the Rodeo Arena to celebrate the end of their epic journey.

The Man from Snowy River Festival has something for everyone and a home base at the Lions' Club Youth Hall and the surrounding Banjo's Block, at the corner of Strzelecki Way and Donaldson Street, is the place to be for poetry and bush music enthusiasts. Corryong's bush festival is based on the iconic 'Man from Snowy River' poem which was written in 1890 by Andrew Barton 'Banjo' Paterson and bush poets and musicians come from all over Australia to celebrate his iconic ode.

Participants also perform other traditional and modern poetry styles as well as introduce their own originals.

Poets Breakfast walkups and other concerts will feature Geoffrey W Graham, The Rhymer from Ryde and Gregory North and local musician Trevor Best and the Bonza Blokes Bush Band.

There is also plenty of room and time for other poets and first timers to also 'have a go'.

The competition is keen particularly The Man From Snowy River recital. The first round has been judged pre-festival with three finalists reciting Banjo's famous poem on Friday at 6.30pm in the Lions Youth Hall.

The 'Written Serious', 'Silver Brumby' and humorous 'Corryong Larrikin' sections have been judged before the festival.

Performance sections include traditional, modern, original serious and humorous and yarn sections which are woven around the festival events.

Further fun is to be had at the Carol Reffold Memorial 'One Minute Poem' at the Youth Hall on Sunday at 1pm which closes out this traditional section of the bush festival.

Geoffrey Graham will feature in the Spirit of the Anzac remembrance concert.
